VOL XVI. NO. 125. TOLEDO, OHIO, MONDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 21, 1891. LAST EDITION. TWO CENTS.

IN THE BEE TO-DAY.

WEATHER.

Forecast for western New York—Fair; westerly winds; cooler.

For Ohio and Indiana—Fair; westerly winds; cooler in northern; stationary temperature in southern portions.

For lower Michigan—Fair; variable winds; cooler.

For upper Michigan—Light local showers; variable winds; stationary temperature.

For Wisconsin—Fair, southerly winds; slight changes in temperature.

For Illinois—Fair; southerly winds: stationary temperature, except in northeast portion; slightly cooler.

There are indications that the storm continues in the gulf and that it has moved slowly to the westward, the center being apparently to the south of Louisiana, although the reports from stations on the gulf coast are not sufficient to definitely locate this disturbance. Shipping at gulf ports should wait for further information before sailing. Special bulletins will be issued during the day.

The pressure is greatest in the Ohio valley and it has increased over the lake regions and northwest.

Local indications for the next 24 hours from 3 p. m.: Fair weather. Slightly cooler. Variable winds.

PUT ON THE PAINT.

Another Story About the Hunted Tascott.

He Has Joined the Turtle Mountain Indians,

And Has a Brawny Squaw for a Turtle Dove.

His Brother's Offer to Give Up His Hiding Place.

The Only Thing the Man Fears is the Gallows—He is Ready to Go to the Penitentiary for Life.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 21.—A strange story of Wm. B. Tascott, who has been found and lost a thousand times since the Snell murder, came here yesterday afternoon.

It is to the effect that two days after the killing of Snell, Tascott came to St. Paul where he remained a week, having been seen here by a Fourth street newsdealer with whom he was acquainted. The story runs that Tascott, learning that the detectives were on his track, went to Winnipeg, thence to a farm 50 miles from that point and eventually to the Turtle mountain reservation, where he joined the Indians and is now a member of the band, having adopted the Indian costume and married a squaw.

While running over his queer experiences as a criminal lawyer at his home yesterday afternoon, W. W. Erwin told a curious tale corroborative of the above. He said: 'One day last February or March a man came into my office and introduced himself as Samuel G. Golden, of St. Johns, N. D. He then startled me by declaring that he knew where Tascott was and had seen him a dozen times recently.

"He then confided to me a scheme Tascott had concocted to escape the gallows. He said he would give himself up if he could have the written assurance of the state's attorney of Cook county that he should move on his arraignment that the sentence should be imprisonment for life instead of hanging.

Mr. Erwin says he told the stranger that he wanted nothing to do with the case and has not seen him since.

As Viewed in Chicago.

Chicago, Sept. 21.—While many claims have been made of discovering Willie Tascott, the alleged murderer of Amos J. Snell, and equally strong assertions that he is dead gained credence, it is stated on the authority of ex-Chief (and now inspector of police) Marsh, that Tascott is not only alive, but that within the last year negotiations have been in progress between the Chicago police and Frank Tascott to surrender the long-missing man under specified conditions.

The negotiations were based upon a proposition that the chief of police should use his influence to have an indictment for burglary against Tascott nolle prossed, that the chief should turn over to him the reward of $50,000 offered by Mrs. A. J. Snell to be used as a defense fund and that State's Attorney Longenecker should guarantee Tascott a fair trial on the indictment for the murder of Snell.

On these terms Frank B. Tascott was willing to surrender his brother. The negotiations fell through because a private detective agency which evidently had a tip excited mistrust in the mind of Frank Tascott, who, as Inspector Marsh expresses it, finally got to mistrust everybody.

RIGHT IN THE GAME.

The People's Party Will Make a Strong Fight.

Appointments Announced for Jerry Simpson, Judge Rightmire and Mrs. Mary Lease.

Tiffin, Sept. 21.—In the midst of the hurly-burly incident to the pending political campaign, the managers of the people's party evince a determination to play a prominent part in the game.

At the headquarters in this city preparations have been made to largely increase the number of their workers and to place in the field several of the leading supporters of the party. Appointments have been made for Congressman Simpson of Kansas, as follows: Tiffin, October 6; Monroeville, October 7; Fremont, October 8; Sandusky, October 8, night; Medina, October 9; Portage county, probably Ravenna, October 10; Cleveland, October 10, night; Knox county, probably Mt. Vernon, October 12; Columbus, October 12, night; Clark county, October 13; Delaware, October 13; Union county, probably Marysville, October 14, night; Miami county, Piqua or Troy, October 15; Allen county, probably Lima, October 16; Newark, October 17.

Judge Rightmire of Topeka, Ks., it is announced, will remain in the state until the election. He opened to-day at a rural point in Franklin county, will speak at Columbus to-night, and close at Toledo the night before the election.

Gen. J. B. Weaver, of Iowa, will devote the six days succeeding the 4th of October to Ohio, opening on the 5th in Williams county, at Montpelier, and speaking subsequently in Union, Delaware, Clarke and Highland counties.

Mrs. M. E. Lease, the famous Kansas agitator, will devote her attention largely to the Western Reserve. She opens her canvass at Columbus on October 16, and will speak on the five succeeding days in the northeastern counties.

Mrs. S. E. V. Emery, of Lansing, Mich., authoress of that peculiar book called "The Seven Financial Conspiracies," is in the state. She spoke at Akron Saturday. On October 1 she will be in Perry county with Seitz, and with him hold 11 meetings in the southeastern river counties.

In addition to these a large number of appointments have been made for Ralph Beaumont, of Washington, D. C.; Snyder and Farmer of Kansas and a number of others.

HELD FOR RANSOM.

Detroit, Sept. 21.—Pietro Lamanda, a wealthy fruit dealer of Toronto, was lured from his home in that city September 10 and his life threatened unless $1,000 be paid. He paid $900 and was released. The chief abductor was arrested here and was returned to Toronto yesterday. Pietro's watch was found on his person.

COMMITTED SUICIDE.

Bryan, O., Sept. 21.—John Oaks, aged 75, a farmer living eight miles northwest of Bryan, committed suicide by shooting himself through the temple. He leaves a wife and several children.

DIED IN THE CHAIR.

A Woman Bleeds to Death After Having Her Teeth Pulled.

Lancaster, Pa., Sept. 21.—The death of Mrs. Jane Campbell, of Mount Nebo, has just been called to the attention of the county officials. The woman literally bled to death after having had 18 teeth extracted by a dentist.

CUT HIS THROAT.

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 21.—Alex. M. Liddell, a well known commercial traveller, committed suicide in the woods at Windsor Junction, yesterday, by cutting his throat. He had been on a three weeks' spree; had lost his position and was ashamed to return to his friends. His brother, also a commercial traveller, committed suicide by cutting his throat in Montreal five years ago.

JONES IS A DEMOCRAT.

New York, Sept. 21.—The Press' Binghamton special says that two prominent alliance leaders have arrived there and endeavored to induce Lieut. Gov. Jones to become an alliance candidate for governor.

The World's Albany special says Mr. Jones telegraphed to alliance men in that city last night refusing to permit the use of his name for governor on an alliance ticket.

COMMITTED SUICIDE.

Bryan, O., Sept. 21. — (Special) — John Oaks, a farmer residing some eight miles northwest of here, committed suicide Friday night by shooting himself in the temple with a revolver. He was 75 years of age and an ex-soldier. He leaves a wife and several children. He has threatened many times to take his life. No cause is given for the act.

HIGH TIDES.

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 21.—The very high tides of Friday, Saturday and Sunday have done great damage to the marshes of Westmoreland county, N. B. Thousands of acres are covered to a depth of five feet. The country around Moncton, the headquarters of the Imperial railroad, looks like a vast sea.

DON LUIS BOGRAN DEAD.

A Ruler of the Balmaceda Stripe Killed.

Assassinated by the People He Misruled.

Story of the Combinations and Intrigues That Take Place in the Lands South of Us.

New York, Sept. 21.—The report that Don Luis Bogran, the president of Hunduras, has been assassinated creates no suprise among those who are acquainted with his eventful career and the state of affairs in Hunduras, for he had made many strong and bitter enemies. In fact, it was predicted a year ago that he would be assassinated.

He was born in Santa Barbara, the metropolis of the republic of Hunduras bearing the name, on June 2, 1849. His father was General Saturninius Bogran.

When Barrios was president of Guatemala, and Don Marco Aurelio Soto president of Hunduras, Bogran was a soldier of considerable promise in the small army of the latter nation. He was restlessly ambitious, and attempted to create a rebellion against the president.

The ill-fated Delgardo was at that time governor of the province of Garcias, and was sent by the president with a force of soldiers to put down Bogran's rebellion. He did so effectively, capturing the leader. After having captured Bogran, Delgardo summoned him before him and said:

"Go. I give you your liberty. You're a man of too small importance to be of any danger to the republic."

Soon after Bogran began to intrigue with Barrios against Don Marco. Barrios sent the letter which he received from Bogran to President Soto, and advised him to arrest the man as a traitor. This President Soto refused to do. Afterward, in 1884, when a misunderstanding arose between President Soto and President Barrios, the latter took up General Bogran and used him as a means of fomenting discord in Hunduras.

The overwhelming power of Guatemela, the strong will of Barrios and twenty thousand troops which he held in readiness to march against Hunduras forced President Soto to resign his seat, and General Bogran was elected to the presidency almost unanimously, and he has held it to the present time.

His presidential chair has not been a seat stuffed with roses or lined with swan's down, however. Bristling bayonets have surrounded it and frequent rebellions have threatened its stability.

In 1886 Delgardo invaded Hunduras with a revolutionary force. He was defeated in battle by General Bogran and carried prisoner to Tegucigalpa. His companion, General More, in that last battle in the mountains, in the sight of both armies, blew his brains out with his own pistol, thus ending acareer of adventure which has hardly its parallel in fiction.

Tied to an ass' back Delgardo was taken to Comayagua, where he was shot in the plaza with sixteen of his companions. Dr. Delgardo, of Salvador, was at that time one of the Ministers of President Menendez. He was a brother of General Emha Delgardo, and tried to save his life. Before the death of President Menendez, Minister Delgardo resigned his office. The ignominious manner in which General Bogran put his brother to death has never been forgiven by Delgardo.

The revolution attempted by Delgardo was only one of many with which Bogran has been called upon to cope during his term of office. Barillas, when he succeeded Barrios as president of Guatemala, continued the policy of his predecessor, and the league between himself and Bogran has been one of the strongest kind.

In the war which Barrios had with Salvador, and in which he was killed, Bogran attempted to fulfill his contract and to march with Barrios against the Salvadorian frontier. But the invasion of his own territory by the armies of Nicaragua and Costa Rica prevented his doing it.

On the downfall of Barrios, Nicaragua and Costa Rica withdrew their troops, leaving Bogran still in office. The alleged discovery of correspondence between Bogran and Colonel Rivas, which correspondence was said to have plainly shown that the revolt of Rivas against the authority of Ezeta was instigated and aided by Bogran, incensed the Salvadorians against him.

His later visit with a portion of his troops to the Salvadorian frontier was, President Bogran alleges, for the purpose of subduing a rebellion which had broken out in that section of Honduras.

In order to give weight to the statement, he hanged a couple of rebel officers of his own, whom he caught, and also a couple of officers who had revolted with Rivas against the authority of Ezeta. The capture of the correspondence, however, has been most unfortunate for Bogran. No amount of hangings ever could remove from the mind of the victorious Ezeta the idea that Bogran was trying to play him false.

When just thirty years old Bogran married Miss Teresa Morejon, a charming maiden of seventeen, the daughter of one of the most notable families in the department of Yoro. In person Bogran had the Boulanger type of countenance, and always affected a rather dashing and military manner.

THE HALF NOT YET TOLD

Fearful Shortage in Breadstuffs Abroad.

Famine Staring Many People in the Face.

There Will be no Foreign War so Long as the Present State of Affairs Continues to Exist.

New York, Sept. 21.—An exhaustive study of the world's food supply, in the forthcoming number of the American Agriculturist, emphasizes facts of grave importance to both America and Europe.

It declares that the half has not been old about the European shortage in breadstuffs, which not even a bountiful crop this year would have relieved. Continental powers, especially Russia, suppress the facts so far as possible. In many Russian provinces the scarcity of food became pronounced as far back as February lastt In the Konstantinovka district many families have not cooked a meal since Easter, but subsist on bread, soaked rye, grain, etc., bestowed in charity. The prohibition of rye exports is followed by a ukase forbidding the shipment of bran and other cereal cattle foods. The astounding shortage in Russia's yield of rye, announced a month since by the ministry of finance proves even greater than the most extravagant estimates and effectually obliterates all possibility of Russia exporting any of her scant wheat crop.

That Eastern Germany is in practically the same plight admits of no doubt. The European reserves that have heretofore eked out insufficient harvests are everywhere exhausted. The parade made by Russia of the existence of such stores in the Baltic provinces is done for effect—to convey the impression that military stores are abundant.

Such reserves are of small importance. Indeed, the danger of famine is destined to spare Europe the horrors of war for fully a twelve month hence.

Accepting the largest estimates of production, both at home and abroad, and even assuming that the United States and Canada can export 225,000,000 bushels, there is a deficit in the world's food supply of at least 200,000,000 bushels of wheat and rye, with a possibility of the shortage being twice as great.

Added to this is the almost total failure of the potato crop in Ireland a serious curtailment in the yield of potatoes on the continent. Even with the utmost economy of distribution and an unheard of consumption of American maize, grave distress is before the masses of Europe.

Enormous exports of wheat and flour from the United States in August proves that Europe regards the situation as worse than it has yet been painted. Otherwise why should she buy in a single month close upon the harvest nearly half as much wheat as she took from the United States during the entire first eight months of the year following one of our largest wheat crops and a period of bedrock prices? Indeed, August wheat exports were almost treble those of the same month last year and over four times as much as the average exports at this season of last year.

For the first time in years wheat, bran and middlings are being exported to Europe thus early in the season. These circumstances are accepted as the strongest possible reason for believing that prices of wheat are to-day unnaturally low. It looks for a sharp advance in all cereals as soon as the demand realizes the limited extent of the world's actual supply. Every bushel of high grade wheat is to-day worth fully $1 on the farm where it grew.

One of the most marked features of the prosperity that is already upon American agriculture, noted by the same magazine, is the extent to which farmers are planning to unite in co-operative buying and selling.

RAIKES' SUCCESSOR.

Sir James Furguson, Bart Has Been Named.

Brief Sketch of the Man Who Will Be at the Head of England's Postal Service.

London, Sept. 21.—Sir James Fergusson, bart, political secretary of the foreign office, has been appointed postmaster-general to fill the vacancy created by the death of Henry Cecil Raikes.

Right Hon. Sir James Fergusson, K. C. M. G., was born in 1832, and was at one time a member of the Grenadier guards. He was wounded at the battle of Inkerman during the Crimean war.

From 1868 to 1873 he was governor of South Australia; governor of New Zealand from 1873 to 1875; governor of Bombay from 1880 to 1885. In the latter year Sir James returned to England and was elected member of parliament for Northeast Manchester. Since then he has been continuously in parliament. He married Lady Edith Christian Ramsey in 1859. In 1871 Lady Edith died, and in 1873 Sir James took as his second wife the daughter of John Henry Richman, of South Australia. This lady died in 1888. Sir James has four children by his first wife, and one by his second.

SENATOR D. B. HILL,

He Does Not Worry About Minor Affairs.

The Sergeant-at-Arms Has Placed Him in the Back Row in an Undesirable Seat.

Washington, Sept. 21.—Gov. Hill, of New York, has never applied for or received any part of the money due him as salary as United States Senator. He is legally entitled to such salary since the 4th day of last March. It has been said by those who claimed to know that he would not appropriate any part of that money to his own use, but would cover it back in the treasury—that portion of it at least which accrued during the time he still remained governor of New York.

He has manifested his indifference to his senatorial honors in another way. He has never asked to be assigned to a seat in the senate chamber. One has been assigned to him, however, by the sergeant-at-arms of the senate. It is in the back row on the democratic side and is the fifth seat in the row from the center aisle.

Perhaps no more undesirable location could be selected in the senate chamber. Its assignment to Gov. Hill came about in the re-arrangement of the seats recently made by the sergeant-at-arms, and which he has just completed. In this rearrangement three seats which last session were on the republican side are now on the democratic side of the chamber. This is one of the tangible results of the election last year. Hill, democrat, succeeds Evarts, republican, Vilas, democrat, succeeds Spooner, republican, and Palmer, democrat, succeeds Farwell, republican.

Peffer, alliance, who succeeds Ingalls, republican, will shake his long whiskers over on the republican side. If he had elected to sit on the democratic side it would have evened things up pretty well, so far as numbers go. Much anxiety has been expressed as to whether Senator Peffer would vote as he sits. It seems to be the general impression that in most questions not affecting the peculiar doctrines of the alliance Mr. Peffer will vote usually with the republicans.

DIED AT '92.

Philadelphia, Sept. 21.—Mrs. Elizabeth Borden Biddle died here last night aged 92 years. Mrs. Biddle was a descendant of a distinguished family, her father being Judge Hopkinson, author of "Hail Columbia," her grandfather Francis Hopkinson, a signer of the declaration of independence, and her great grandfather, Thomas Hopkinson, a member of the provincial council and judge of the vice admiralty under George II.

OCEAN MARINE.

Southampton, Sept. 21.—Arrived—Elder from New York and proceeded for Bremen.

WANDERING MANY YEARS.

A Quarter of a Century of Suffering.

The Pathetic Story of An Illinois Veteran.

Chance Led Him Back to His Family and He is Once More in the Hands of Friends.

Washington, Sept. 21.—One of the most remarkable and pathetic cases that has ever been brought to the attention of the bureau of pensions is that of William Newby, a private of Company D, Fortieth regiment Illinois Volunteers.

This regiment was commanded by the heroic Stephen G. Hicks, of Illinois, and was conspicuous for its gallantry at the battle of Shiloh.

Newby was in this battle on the 16th of April, 1862, and was reported killed in action. It seems, however, that instead of being killed he received a severe wound of the head and was captured and sent to the rear by the confederate forces, and was imprisoned at Belle Isle, and was afterwards transferred to Andersonville.

It seems that Newby was released in course of time, and was in poorhouses in various parts of the south. He was finally taken to Key West, Fla., by a gentleman who recognized Newby as a kinsman. Here he remained until some time in 1869, when his uncle died.

Newby wandered from place to place, and finally turned up at Shreveport, La. While there the colored people made up a purse, and he was given passage on a steamboat to Cincinnati.

On the way up the river the steamboat landed at Shawneetown, Ill. Newby, hearing his name called out, seemed to recognize something that was familiar, and got off the boat.

From here he wandered to Kankakee, Ill., where he was in the poor house for a time. Leaving this place he struck out southward and at last reached McLeansboro, in Hamilton county, Ill., and was sent to the poor house.

During these years he was in a demented state bordering on insanity as the supposed result of the wound in the head. In wandering about he finally went over into White county and when he got near his old home was seen and recognized by two of his comrades who had served in the regiment with him.

His wife was sent for and she identified him, as did his relatives and many of his friends and comrades.

After Newby was reported as killed in act on his wife applied for a pension and it was granted and she has been drawing a widow's pension from the date of his reported death to the present time.

This soldier has filed a claim for a pension, and it is now receiving the consideration of the office, the claim of the widow being suspended in the meantime. No discharge has ever been granted to the soldier and the consideration of the pension claim is being postponed until such time as the ex-secretary of war shall grant the man a discharge. The soldier has been separated from his family for a period of 29 years, they believing all the while that he was dead, and now he turns up a forlorn, demented old man.

His case has attracted great attention in the southern part of Illinois, and has excited the universal sympathy of all who have become acquainted with it. He recently attended a large reunion of old veterans of his county where the subject was universally discussed. The pension will no doubt soon be granted, and he will receive a sufficient sum to smooth his way to the end of his life.

BURNING THE DEAD BODIES

Clearing Away the Results of the Flood.

Human Beings and Cattle Consumed in Bonfires Fed by Petroleum.

Madrid, Sept. 21.—There is no longer any danger of starvation in the afflicted cities. The workmen who struck on account of the dangerous stench encountered in handling the dead have been prevailed upon to resume.

A liberal supply of disinfectants has reached the stricken town and the work of opening up the streets and clearing away the ruins is again progressing.

The bodies of the dead as soon as recovered are taken to immense crematory bonfires and there soaked in petroleum and reduced to cinders.

Petroleum is also being largely used in feeding the fires used for consuming dead bodies. The carcasses of cattle, which are found almost everywhere, are disposed of in the same manner.

The greatest misery has been caused by the floods at Camunas and Villafranca. The crops have been lost, and it is feared riots will result if relief is delayed. At Consuegra there is a demand for more disinfectants. Many marauders have been imprisoned there. At Almeria the bodies of 1,781 victims of the floods have been buried. Many houses undermined by the floods continue to fall.

SUIT AGAINST THE ITATA.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 21.—A second libel suit has been filed against the Chilian steamer Itata, at San Diego, by United States Marshal Gard for $200,000 for damages sustained in bringing the vessel back from Chili. The case will come up this morning in the United States court before Judge Ross.

DROPPED DEAD AT MASS.

Troy, N. Y., Sept. 21.—Father Mulloney, pastor of the Roman Catholic church at Granville, Washington county, dropped dead on the altar while saying mass yesterday. The congregation became greatly excited, but soon quieted. Deceased was greatly beloved by his parishioners.

BARBERS WALK OUT.

Some Will Not Accept the Percentage System—What the Bosses Say.

Pursuant to an agreement arrived at yesterday afternoon a majority of the journeymen barbers of the city went on a strike this morning. A few of the shops are still running, and the men at Flowers' on Jefferson street, the Boody House and a few others continue at work.

The more prominent shops from which the men went out include, The Jefferson, Miller's on Monroe street, Bowers' and Erney's on Adams street, Ray's in the Fifth ward.

Mr. Flowers, of Jefferson street, talking with a Bee this morning said:

"Our proposition was to give the men 55 per cent. of the money taken in by them. I want to show you my books for last week." (Mr. Flowers here produced his books and it was evident that every man in the shop would have been benefited had he been working on per centage.) "It is a fair proposition," he continued. "The employers run all the risk and the men none. For instance you come in and get a dollar's worth of work done and you say 'Well I'll settle next week.' I put the bill in my books and you skip out without settling. The barber who did the work gets 55 cents Saturday night, while I am out not only the dollar's worth of work but 55cents besides. My men have all agreed to the per centage system and I think they were wise."

James Newton, formerly President of of the Journeymen Barbers Union, and now an employer, said:

"My men all went out this morning and I am sorry for it—they were all good men. I said to them 'If we cannot run five chairs and make it pay then we will run four chairs.' The per centage is the only fair one. We make employes partners in the business."

The men who have gone out say the system can be so manipulated that their wages will be reduced and they are afraid to depart from the old system.

Some have agreed to the terms and say it is simply a carrying out of a labor plank, viz., industrial co-operationship.

The matter will be discussed at a special meeting of the Union to-night.

COMMON PLEAS COURT.

Business Resumed With Old Time Vigor.

The Grand Jury Empaneled and at Work—Motions Heard and Decided—Other Business.

Common pleas court convened to-day for the September term, and the old court house presented the usual busy appearance on such occasions.

Judge Pugsley called the motion docket, Judge Lemmon assigned civil cases for hearing, and Judge Harmon empaneled the grand jury.

Judge Lemmon is out of the city but will open court in a few days.

After formally opening court and disposing of preliminary business an adjournment was taken until to-morrow morning, to attend the funeral of Avery S. Hill, which occurred this afternoon.

A few motions were heard and decided.

The Ketcham Furniture Company in Court.

Louis Barfield sued the Ketcham Furniture company in common pleas court today for $10,000 damage for injury. The plaintiff was employed by the defendant operating a rip saw, and on January 27, 1890, had the little finger of his left hand sawed off. He charges that the saw had been marked unsafe by the saw inspector.

The Lake Shore Sued.

Alexander Baker sued the Lake Shore Railway company in common pleas cotur to-day to recover $10,000 damages for injury. In his petition he states that while in the employ of the defendants at Auburndale, on June 22, 1891, the attempted to board one of he plaintiff's trains at Broadway bridge. In doing so his foot caught in a wire located along the track a few inches from the earth, and he was thrown to the ground and his left arm was run over by the wheels of the train, thereby crippling him for life.

HENRY COUNTY POLITICS.

Democrats Nominate a Winning Ticket.

Enthusiasm at the Highest Pitch.

Hon. W. C. Miller Addresses the Farmers on Tariff Reform—Cramer Indicted—General Mention.

Napoleon, O., Sept. 21.—(Special)—One of the largest and most enthusiastic conventions ever held in the court house was that of Henry county's democracy Saturday.

Early in the morning the town began to put on a busy air, and before the convention convened at 10 o'clock the streets were crowded with delegates and others who came from all parts of the county to see the good work. The candidates for the various offices had been doing good natured work six weeks prior to the convention, but it was on that day that some most energetic husling was done.

At 10 o'clock the convention was called to order by ex-Treasurer Waltimore, who introduced the temporary chairman, Hon. J. V. Cuff. After a few remarks the chairman asked the pleasure of the delegates.

On motion the several committees were made up of one delegate from each township, after which the convention recessed until 1:30 p. m.

Upon reconvening the committees reported.

Permanent organization recommended M. M. Knupp, chairman; L. L. Orwig, secretary; C. T. Clement, assistant secretary.

Committee on rules and order of business reported the usual code.

That of resolutions warmly commended the democratic state platform and Gov. Campbell's administration; scored the McKinley bill and literally wiped the ground with its author for inflicting the iniquitous measure upon a people who have for their government the grand old constitution; and congratulated the democratic party for its harmonious and good working condition for this fall's campaign.

All reports were adopted with no amendments save a slight change in the order of nominations for candidates.

Permanent Chairman Knupp was introduced, who in a few words of thanks for the honor, dispensed with any set speech and set at once to the labor before him.

Jas. P. Ragan was renominated for prosecuting attorney by acclamation, as was also John Groll for county treasurer. Both candidates have made exemplary officials, and their renominations were cheered to the echo.

The names of H. A. Meyerholtz, J. B. Dittenhaver, Frank Myers, Dr. Townsend and J. E. Routan were announced for representative. Upon the third ballot Myers was nominated.

He made a brief speech of acceptance, in which he proved himself a scholar and statesman. He is from Marion township—a township that has received very little public favor, hence his nomination gave entire satisfaction and his election is a certainty.

For commissioner the names of L. D. Croninger, Wm. Metzner, Louis Bockelman, John McGarvey, Frank Kouzen and Levi King, were submitted for the convention's consideration. The balloting was attended with much enthusiasm and was very close. On the third ballot Bockelman lacked a fraction of a vote to receive the plum.

On the next ballot there was a shift 166 to 152 for Bockelman, all others having withdrawn.

E. H. Garbers, Jos. Weible, H. Westenhouse, Charles Rousch and John Hoshberger entered the race for infirmary director, Westenhouse capturing the nomination on the second ballot.

With thorough good feeling and a total lack of soreheads, the convention adjourned.

The nominees are all of the best material we have, and that they will be elected by handsome majorities even the most radical republican does not doubt.

Tariff Reform.

W. C. Miller, of Iowa, made a most able and pleasing tariff reform speech at the court house Saturday evening.

The house was crowded and the general verdict was that Mr. Miller was one of the most ardent and convincing orators that it has ever been our fortune to hear.

His dissecting of the silver sophistries and tariff infamy will carry conviction to every candid mind and honest heart who loves his country.

He analyzed the McKinley bill and pictured its thousand intricate traps to rob the farmers and wage workers to fill the pockets of the millionaire manufacturing lords.

People who knew Mr. Miller expected a brilliant speech, but this address was not only brilliant, not only a masterpiece of oratory, but it was a logical argument that did not leave a grease spot of Shermanism and McKinleyism.

Company F.

Company F, Sixteenth regiment has re-elected Capt. C. E. Reynolds, 1st Lieut. Frank Reiter, and 2d Lieut. A. E. Angenstine to serve for five years. The officers are good ones and all on their second terms. They are favorites among both the company and people. The very high standard attained by the company is through their zeal.

Cramer Indicted.

The most important of the indictments of the grand jury is that of M. Cramer for adultery. He is the man who, as stated in a prior impression of the Bee, has lived with two women, of not very chaste renown, for 12 years, six illigitimate children resulting. He was arrested and is confined in the bullpen. His trial comes off this week and he can assure himself that a protracted season in the penitentiary will be a most prominent feature of his horoscope. He is over sixty years of age and has had a standing challenge at all times to lick any one who interfered with his love escapades.

CORCORAN WILL RECOVER.

New York, Sept. 21.—Larry Corcoran, the well-known pitcher and umpire, is not dead, but is getting well at St. Michael's hospital in Newark. The report of his death on Saturday was made through a mistake of one of his relatives in Newark.

FULTON COUNTY FAIR.

Ottokee, O., Sept. 21.—(Special)—The Fulton County Agricultural society will hold its annual meeting September 29 to October 2. An immensely good display will be made and large crowds are expected.

TIMOTHY IN BOSTON.

Boston, Sept. 21.—Timothy Hopkins, who will contest Mrs. Searles' will arrived here late last night. With reference to the coming legal battle he would say but little, but from his demeanor he evidently intends to make a stubborn fight for what he considers his rights.

REVIVAL MEETINGS.

Frank W. Smith, late railroad secretary Y. M. C. A., will address meetings for young men at Y. M. C. A. hall, corner Summit and Orange streets, every night this week at 8 o'clock. He will also conduct noonday meetings from 12:15 to 12:45 in the parlors of the association. All young men are cordially invited to attend as many of the services as possible.

THEIR SINS ARE MANY.

The McKinley Law Stimulates Crime.

Opium Smuggling Fostered by the Measure.

The Drug Brought Across the Border, Manufactured and No Questions Asked.

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 21.—The good citizens of the United States will be surprised to learn that one of the provisions of the most important law enacted by their late billion dollar congress—the McKinley tariff—has opened the way for the perpetration of a fraud upon the revenues of their government amounting to considerably over a million dollars annually.

They will be shocked to know that this particular clause of that same law is fostering and encouraging one of the most horrible and deadly vices of the century—a vice that is rapidly fastening itself upon thousands of the people in the great cities of the union.

They will be amused at the spectacle presented of a great branch of the internal revenue service, created by that same law, with rules, regulations and preparations galore, and not one dollar's worth of business transacted within the year under the law!

At the time of the passage of the McKinley bill this particular clause of the act appeared unreasonable and inexplicable.

Its enactment has resulted in a fraud upon the treasury and an outrage upon the morals of the nation.

It has caused the smuggling of hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of prepared opium into the United States.

It has turned every Chinese laundry into a manufactory and every pig-tailed and almond-eyed Celestial in the United States into a manufacturer of prepared opium for smoking purposes in violation of law.

The fraud upon the revenue can be approximated in dollars and cents; the effects upon the morals of the people can be but vaguely guessed—surmised—with a shudder of horror for its possible extent.

Prior to the enactment of the McKinley tariff the law relating to the importation of opium placed a duty upon the drug as follows:

"Opium, crude, containing 9 per cent. and over of morphia, $1 per pound.

"Opium, prepared for smoking, $10 per pound."

Under this law the imports were extensive. For comparison I will call your attention to the figures for the three months ending September 30, 1890, and immediately preceding the taking effect of the McKinley law:

Imports Into United States.

	Pounds.	Duty.
Opium, crude	77,015	$77,015
Opium, prepared	16,652	166,520

As changed by the late billion dollar congress the law now reads:

"Opium, crude, free of duty.

"Opium, prepared, $12 per pound.

Under this law the imports for the three months ending March 31, 1891, were:

Imports Into United States.

	Pounds.	Duty.
Opium, crude	107,295	.....
Opium, prepared	8,118	$97,41

From the foregoing statement it will be seen that during the year there will be legally brought into the United States for consumption by the inhabitants thereof nearly five hundred thousand pounds of crude opium.

But that is not all. Custom officers of the Dominion government estimate that at least one hundred thousand pounds of prepared opium, worth $2,000,000 in the United States, will be smuggled from Canada and British Columbia across the border into the states.

This state of affairs is due directly to the McKinley bill and the billion dollar congress.

The only explanation—which in no sense explains—that the tariff tinkers offered for this most remarkable legislation is conveyed in a brief note, which may be found in the report of the ways and means committee accompanying the presentation of the McKinley bill to the house of representatives. It is as follows:

"If crude opium is be put on the free list, as is proposed, it is presumed that opium will be manufactured in the United States for smoking purposes. Sections 34 to 38 inclusive contemplate such manufacture and provide for an internal tax thereon with necessary safeguards."

A New Industry.

After thus "presuming" that opium would be manufactured in the United States for smoking purposes and create a "home industry," the committee found it necessary to levy an internal revenue tax upon the manufactured article, so the following provisions were included in the bill to regulate the "new industry:"

"Section 36. That an internal revenue tax of $10 per pound shall be levied and collected upon all opium manufactured in the United States for smoking purposes, and no person shall engage in such manufacture who is not a citizen of the United States, and who has not given the bond required by the commissioner of internal revenue.

"Sec. 37. That every manufacturer of such opium shall file with the collector of internal revenue of the district in which his manufactory is located such notices, inventories and bonds, shall keep such books and render such returns of material and products, shall put up such signs and affix such number to his factory, and conduct his business under such surveillance of officers and agents as the commissioner of internal revenue, with the approval of the secretary of the treasury, may by regulation require. But the bond required of such manufacturer shall be with sureties satisfactory to the collector of internal revenue and in a penal sum of not less than $5,000, and the sum of said bond may be increased from time to time and additional sureties required at the discretion of the collector or under instructions of the commissioner of internal revenue.

"Sec. 38. That all prepared smoking opium imported into the United States shall, before removal from the custom house, be duly stamped in such manner as to denote that the duty thereon has been paid, and that all opium manufactured in the United States for smoking purposes before being removed from the place of manufacture, whether for consumption or storage, shall be duly stamped in such permanent manner as to denote the payment of the internal revenue tax thereon.

"Sec. 39. That the provisions of existing laws governing the engraving issue, sale, accountability, effacement, cancellation and destruction of stamps relating to tobacco and snuff, as far as applicable, are hereby made to apply to stamps provided for by the preceding section.

Sec. 40 That a penalty of not more than $1,000 or imprisonment not more one year, or both, in the discretion of the court, shall be imposed for each and every violation of the preceding sections of this act relating to opium by any person or persons, and all prepared smoking opium, wherever found within the United States without stamps required by this act, shall be forfeited."

The committee were right in presuming that opium would be manufactured for smoking purposes in the United States. It is being manufactured at the rate of 500,000 pounds a year.

But when they calculated to collect an internal revenue tax of $10 per pound on it they reckoned without their host.

What has been the result of this legislation?

The honorable commissioner of internal revenue at the treasury department in Washington will tell you:—

"Not a single application has been made to this bureau for license to manufacture opium, and not a dollar has been collected from that source."

Yet, in the space of three months, there has been brought into the United States, duty free, through the United States custom houses, under sanction of law, 107,295 pounds of crude opium.

Every pound of it has been made into smoking opium in the United States in violation of law.

The special agents of the treasury department will tell you that thousands of pounds of it have been prepared in Mott street, New York city; vast quantities in San Francisco, New Orleans, Denver, Galveston, Seattle, Tacoma, Portland, St. Paul, Chicago, the mining towns of the rockies and the Pacific coast—in fact, everywhere that there is a group of Chinamen.

The Billion Dollar congress could hardly have enacted a happier law than they did for the benefit and delight of the men and women who "hit the pipe" and the Chinese population, to whom opium is more than bread.

Why was the law made thus? No one outside of that charmed circle of tariff tinkers who conceived the bill can tell. There is no record of it. While the ways and means committee were hatching the bill they gave audience to manufacturers and patrons of "home industries," of every class and character. These men went before the committee and gave the reasons why the tariff should be raised. The testimony of these gentlemen was afterward printed by the committee and fills a volume of over a thousand pages.

There is not one word about opium, however, in the thousand and odd pages. Nobody advocated the change in the tariff on opium.

The process of manufacturing opium for smoking purposes, and the manner in which it is smuggled into the United States from British Columbia and Canada is as follows:

The opium is brought in its crude form from China and India to Vancouver, B. C., consigned to the Chinese merchants and opium boilers at that place and at Moose Jaw, Northwest territory. There are twelve or fifteen extensive boiling establishments in Vancouver and several down the line of the Canadian Pacific railroad engaged in reducing great quantities of opium to a prepared state for smoking.

When the opium is prepared it resembles a thick, dark colored paste. It is packed in five tael copper cans holding half a pound each. This form of packing is adopted to render the transport of the "stuff" easy.

In Vancouver there are organized syndicates of men, with considerable capital invested, engaged solely in smuggling opium into the United States.

Her majesty's customs officers advise me that at least $2,000,000 worth of opium is "handeled" by these syndicates annually.

That represents a fraud of $1,200,000 upon the revenues of the United States government annually.

My informers base their estimate upon the annual imports of crude opium and the output of the British Columbia boilers.

The smuggling syndicates have agents in San Francisco, Seattle, Denver, Helena, Montreal, Toronto, Chicago, Detroit, New York, St. Paul and in all of the border towns, as Grand Forks, Bottineau, St. Johns, Crookston, Halleck, Fort Benton, etc.

They also have agents in Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary and all of the stations on the Canadian Pacific railway and its branch lines that form points of departure for "the states."

The most popular mode of smuggling is to pack $3,000 worth of prepared opium in an ordinary trunk, which one of the agents checks as his baggage. To avoid suspicion he will check it as far as Calgary, where he calls for it. It is then checked the next day by another agent and carried to Winnipeg. This is called "breaking the checks" and is a good scheme, as it prevents a trunk being followed or "spotted" while en route.

The Winnipeg agent takes the trunk down one of the three lines of railroad and unloads at a station a few miles from the United States border. Here he communicates with another agent, who has a light spring wagon and a double team of flyers.

The trunk next makes its appearance at a railway station in North Dakota or Minnesota, from whence it goes to the distributing depot at St. Paul or Chicago.

That is the quick route, what might be called "the smugglers' fast express." This route is used for quick delivery of small quantities.

In a previous letter I described to you the unprotected condition of the border on the American side, which renders such traffic possible and profitable.

I am informed that immense quantities of opium are now being packed in convenient shape ready to be smuggled into the United States during the coming fall and winter in wheat and grain shipped in bulk when the great wheat crop is moved. The greater portion of this, I am told, will enter the United States at lake ports.

A heavy traffic is done in the aggregate of small lots of opium smuggled across the border from Toronto, Montreal, Windsor, and eastern Canadian points. The "stuff" is shipped in 100 pound cases to those cities, broken into small lots and snaked across.

The porters of Pullman cars running between Canada and the United States take over many thousand pounds during the year, and make a tidy profit from it. They can easily secrete five or ten pounds every trip in their cars.

The most open trade in opium smuggling is carried on in the region of the Lake of the Woods and the Rainy Lake river. Absolutely no objection is interposed by the United States government to the traffic in this section.

The "stuff" is unloaded from the Canadian Pacific railroad at Rat Portage and carried aboard a small steamboat which plies the Lake of the Woods and the Rainy Lake river. An agent accompanies it and simply throws a tarpaulin over it. No other concealment is necessary.

It is transported to Fort Francis at the head of navigation on the Rainy Lake river. It's go-as-you-please here. Revenue duties are not thought of—that is, on the American side. On the Canadian side a vigilent force of officers prevent American whisky and tobacco from coming over.

A fleet of canoes manned by half-breeds and French Canadians now meet the agent. The "stuff" is quickly transferred, and in charge of another agent commences a canoe journey up the Rainy Lake river to Vermillion river, thence to Vermillion lake and across the lake to the town of Tower, Minn., terminus of the Duluth & Iron Range railway.

There is nothing to hinder. There are no United States customs officers to ask embarrassing questions, not even an occasional mounted patrolman to dodge. The traffic goes on and will continue until the United States government adopts measures such as Canada enforces.

THEY WON'T CASH UP,

Republican Clerks are Kicking Vigorously.

They Refuse to Give Up Five Per Cent of Their Salary to Elect McKinley.

Washington, Sept. 21.—Texas steers never kicked harder than the republican office holders from Ohio are kicking against the heavy assessments levied by the McKinley and Sherman campaign managers.

Chairman Hahn sent each of them a letter a couple of weeks ago, calling upon them to step up to the counter and settle.

No specified amount is mentioned in the circular letter, but Judge Lowery, formerly of Hardin county and ex-clerk of the Ohio senate, is here as the emissary of the republican executive committee trying to hold the Ohio republicans up for 5 per cent. of their salaries.

Such a heavy percentage has never been demanded before, not even in the halcyon days of Jay Hubbell. Two per cent. is the highest that has been levied in recent years, and even two per cent. per annum is a pretty heavy commission for the privilege of holding a government job at the hands of the g. o. p.

The clerks say that if they pay the 5 per cent. demanded the assessment will be equivalent to 6 or 7 per cent. when their expenses home to vote are included. The friends of Gov. Foraker are especially rampant.

They declare that when Foraker was a candidate two years ago many of the Sherman men here refused to contribute or go home to vote. Now that Sherman, however, is hanging over the precipice they double the size of the assessment and seek to waylay everybody.

Besides, the Foraker men are dissatisfied with the manner with which the state committee is being manipulated for Sherman, and they declare that whatever money they have to contribute will be sent directly to the committees of their own counties.

The Sherman and Foraker factions are all at war with each other, and some very stormy sessions of the Ohio Republican association are liable to occur here soon.

The civil service commission has taken no action regarding the violation of the law involved in assessing the Ohio republicans and it will probably continue to keep its eyes closed unless some of the protesting clerks seek protection under its

DIED ON CHILIAN SOIL.

Balmaceda, the Cruel Southern Usurper,

Puts a Bullet Through His Brain in Santiago.

Afraid to Meet the Consequences of His Bloody Career He Dies the Death of a Wretch.

New York, Sept. 21.—The Herald's Valparaiso cablegram states that ex President Balmaceda of Chili shot himself through the temple in his room at the Argentine legation in Santiago Saturday morning.

The story became known in Valparaiso in the afternoon and created the greatest excitement. Last evening the city was brilliantly illuminated, and on every hand was heard the sounds of rejoicing.

It now seems that the story that Balmaceda escaped from Valparaiso on the United States steamer San Francisco was erroneous. Instead, he left Santiago on August 29 in hope of escaping from the country, but finding every avenue closed, returned to the city September 2, and went direct to the Argentine legation.

Since then he has been in an extremely nervous condition. No one, save the minister of the Argentine Republic and one other man devoted to Balmaceda, was permitted to see him.

About 8 o'clock Saturday morning Senor Urriburia heard a pistol shot in Balmaceda's bedroom, and rushing there found that the ex-president had put a bullet in his brain. The junta was notified and a committee immediately went to the house and viewed the body.

As the news spread about Santiago great crowds of people gathered around the Argentine legation. They cheered, hooted and went into a frenzy over the death of their chief enemy. Above all the discordant shouts were heard cries congratulating the unfortunate Balmaceda that in taking his own life he had escaped a worse fate.

Balmaceda left a letter to his mother and also a statement to the New York Herald. As almost the declaration of a dying man, they are of special importance. He says:

"I acted all during the past eight months with the firm conviction that I was right. I had no one in the army in whom I could place any trust. My generals were false to me. They lied all through the war. Had my orders been obeyed I believe that the battle of Con Con would have resulted in a decisive victory against the enemy. My heart all through this trouble has been with Chili. I sought to rescue my country from foreign domination. I strove to make her the first republic in America.

"My enemies say that I was cruel. Circumstances compelled me to sanction certain acts, but many bad deeds that have been attributed to my orders were never known by me until they were committed. Until the final battle at Placilla I had strong hopes of triumphing over my foes.

"Victory was assured by my generals, Alcerecca, Barbosa and Viel. They all lied. I now know they only pretended friendship for me because of the money that was to be gotten out of me. All the money that I have in possession is $2,500. My wife gave it tome on the night of August 28.

"Your minister, Patrick Egan, many times offered me good advice. He urged me to make peace with those opposed to me and retire from Chili.

"I did not heed this wise advice for I thought he was under the influence of the junta who were then refugees in the American legation. All through the closest advisers were always opposed to any overtures for peace."

Balmaceda's body has been removed to the general cemetery. It was accompanied by the members of the family and friends. The widow of the dead ex-president was informed of his tragic death by her brother, Domingo Torro.

Balmaceda's Death.

New York, Sept. 21.—The Herald's special Valparaiso dispatch this morning says it is the general belief that Balmaceda's death will hasten the restoration of peace throughout Chili. Now that the chief enemy of the victorious junta is no more it is likely that his followers will be shown mercy, since without Balmaceda to direct them they are very little to be feared. Italy, France, Germany, Sweden and Norway have followed the lead of the United States in official recognition of the junta. No official recognition has yet come from England. This creates considerable comment.

Joy in London.

London, Sept. 21.—Notwithstanding the usual quiet of Sunday, the news of Balmaceda's death made a marked impression here and was the chief topic, even surpassing the question of the Dardanelles and the German emperor's assault on Napoleon the Great.

The general feeling in English commercial circles is one of relief and joy. While Balmaceda lived there never could be an assurance that Balmaceda, who undoubtedly had a large following in Chili, might not stir up another revolution, and reverse the order of things, to the great detriment and disappointment of the English interests in control of the nitrate traffic.

Colonel North received the news at his country home and is said to have shown intense satisfaction. He expects to profit immensely by the change of affairs as the congressionalists have all along been friendly to him, and there is no doubt that he advanced considerable sums of money to aid their cause in Europe.

For this, it is said he will reap a tenfold reward, as the value of his nitrate interests will be vastly improved.

A prominent Chilian, who for fear of making enemies at home did not wish his name mentioned, said this morning: "It is nonsense to talk of Balmaceda having intended to fly from Chili. He would sooner have surrendered to the enemy than to have left his native country forever, and he preferred death to surrender.

He remained alive in Santiago until his presidential term was over, which was on Friday, September 18, and on Saturday he killed himself. The atrocities of his subordinates are largely responsible for the hatred borne him by the congressionalists."

WORKED LIKE A CHARM.

Electricity Finds a New Use in Chicago.

It Proves to be a Sure Thing in Stopping a Runaway Team of Horses.

Chicago, Sept. 21.—The new system of stopping runaway horses by electricity was given a practical test on the lake front yesterday by A. B. Holsen, the inventor.

Michigan avenue was lined with spectators. Holsen got into a carriage to which two horses were attached and with no driver on the box. A man lashed the horses with a whip and they dashed away at a break neck speed.

Suddenly the animals raised themselves on their haunches, and came to a full stop.

The invention consists of a dry battery under the driver's box, and connected by wires with metal balls placed in the horse's nostrils.

There are two buttons, one in the driver's box, the other inside, which will close the circuit when pressed. The result is a mild shock, which the inventor asserts will invariably bring horses to a standstill.

BRIDE OF 70 AND GROOM 19.

She Married Him Because She Pitied His Forlorn State.

Greensburg, Pa., Sept. 21.—Miss Polly Errett, aged 70 years, to-day became the wife of Lewis Ratter, who confesses to but 19 summers. The bride is wealthy and owns a large farm near here. Ratter went to work for her some months ago, and was soon violently in love with his sprightly aged employer. He proposed marriage, but the lady laughed at the idea. Lewis persisted, however, and finally Miss Polly yielded. She says she decided to marry him because she pitied him, he was so deeply in love.

WEATHER AND CROPS.

Washington, Sept. 21.—The department of agriculture issues the following: Ohio—The hot, dry weather is maturing corn rapidly and another week will see all corn matured. Corn and tabacco cutting is progressing in the middle and southern portions of the state. The lack of rain has been injurious to pastures and delays plowing and wheat seeding.

Michigan—Weather conditions have been favorable for all crops: corn is practically safe and cutting is general. A large acreage of wheat has been sown. Rain is needed in southwestern counties.

Illinois—The warm, sunshiny weather caused corn to ripen rapidly. Wheat seeding is progressing, but has been retarded somewhat by lack of moisture. Rain is needed for early sown wheat and pastures.

Indiana—The warm, dry and sunshiny week caused corn and tobacco to mature very rapidly. Most of the corn is considered safe from frost and the remainder will be in a few days with a continuation of the present weather conditions; rain is needed for newly sown wheat.

KATHOLIKEN TAGE.

An Important Event Being Held in Buffalo.

The Cahensly Affair Will be Discussed—Other Matters of General Interest.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 21.—The fifth annual convention of the German speaking Catholics, or Katholiken Tage, meets in this city to-day, and will hold daily sessions until the evening of the 24th. The first congress was held in Chicago, the second in Cincinnati, the third in Cleveland and the fourth in Pittsburg.

Special interest attaches to the Buffalo congress because of the recent developments in the Cahensly case. A prominent priest made the following statement to a United Press reporter:

"There are in the congress two different sections. One is made up of priests and laymen. Its sessions are public. The object seems to be the discussion of religious and politico-religious topics.

"The other section is the 'priester-verein,' or the German Clerical union, the sessions of which are held with closed doors, the clergymen only being admitted. This is the real congress. As a matter of fact the 'priester-verein' was organized by itself in the spring of 1887, in Chicago.

"The first general congress called by the 'priester-verein' was held in the fall of the same year. The first call of the verein was signed by a German priest of St. Louis, the same, who, in 1886, had sent petition to Rome, asking for special recognition of the German priests in America, and who have been since the action leaders in every movement calculated to promote the special organization of the German Catholics.

"Many German Catholics look upon this movement as ill advised—as tending to misunderstandings and divisions. The English-speaking Catholics declare that it is un-American. It may be, in view of the recent declaration of the pope, that the approaching congress may make a public declaration to disarm this criticism."

In confirmation of this last statement of the priest, it may be mentioned that the manager of the press reports has received a letter from Mr. Cahensly, saying that his object had been misunderstood and that he would take occasion to more clearly explain it.

The committee on resolutions will meet at 2:30 p. m. to-day. In the evening will be a grand torchlight procession. Tuesday morning the Pontifical mass will be celebrated at St. Joseph's cathedral. The sermon will be preached by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Vardetti, of St. Cloud, Minn. The first meeting of the German-American union will be held at 10 o'clock a. m. Tuesday, and the first business session of the congress at 3 o'clock of the same day. The first general session open to the public will be held Tuesday evening.

The sessions will close with the solemn mass of thanksgiving at St. Louis church, Thursday morning.

KILLED BY A THIEF.

Capt. Herring, of St. Johns, Shot Dead.

He Was Protecting His Property and Met Death From an Unknown Hand.

Wapakoneta, O., Sept. 21.—(Special)—Yesterday morning this quiet little country town of St. Johns, situated six miles east of this city, was disturbed by two pistol shots being fired, one by Capt. William Herring, and the other by some unknown person.

The details are as follows: Capt. Herring, a resident of St. Johns for the last 20 years, lives with his family in a beautiful residence near the town.

He was disturbed by noise in his chicken coop about 2 o'clock in the morning. He went out into the yard with a 38-calibre revolver in his hands, looking for the thief.

His wife heard the shot but thought her husband fired the shot just to scare the thief off the premises, but when he did not return for some time she went to look for him.

She found him lying on the ground. She called her son Willie, who is 16 years old, and he went down the yard and found that his father was dead.

Willie aroused the neighbors and, assisted by them, they carried the lifeless body into the house.

The town is infected by a gang of thieves who visit residences, chicken coops, corn bins, etc.

The neighbors say that Capt. Herring, who is a strong and fearless man, has told them that he would make short work of any one who would tresspass on his premises.

He was found with a large bullet hole through his breast, the ball passing through his heart and lodging in his back.

Peculiar

Peculiar in combination, proportion, and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable Hood's kingdom. Peculiar in its strength and economy, Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which can truly be said, "One Hundred Doses One Dollar." Peculiar in its medicinal merits, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown, Sarsaparilla and has won for itself the title of "The greatest blood purifier ever discovered." Peculiar in its "good name at home,"—there is more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell than of all other blood purifiers. Peculiar in its phenomenal record of Peculiar sales abroad no other preparation ever attained so rapidly nor held so steadfastly the confidence of all classes of people. Peculiar in the brain-work which it represents, Hood's Sarsaparilla combines all the knowledge which modern research To Itself in medical science has developed, with many years practical experience in preparing medicines. DOCTORS FRANCE AND OTTMAN,

Formerly of New York, now of the France Medical and Surgical Institute, Columbus Ohio, by request of many friends and patients, has decided to visit

TOLEDO, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 30.

Consultation and Examination Free and Strictly Confidential in the Private Parlor of the Burnett House from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m., one day only.

The Doctors describe the different diseases better than the sick can themselves. It is a wonderful gift for any one to possess. Their diagnostic powers have created wonders throughout the country.

The France Medical and Surgical Institute of Columbus, Ohio, is the only Medical Institute in the state incorporated with a capital of $300,000.

FRANCE MEDICAL AND SURGICAL INSTITUTE,

38 & 40 W. Gay St., one block N. of State House, Columbus, O. Incorporated 1886. Capital, $300,000.

DRS. FRANCE AND OTTMAN, of New York, the well known and successful Specialists in Chronic Diseases and Diseases of the Eye and Ear, on account of their large practice in Ohio, have established the FRANCE MEDICAL INSTITUTE, where all forms of Chronic, Nervous and Private Diseases will be successfully treated on the most Scientific principles. They are ably assisted by a full corps of eminent Physicians and Surgeons, each one being a well known specialist in his profession

CANCER positively cured without pain or use of the knife, by a new method.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—DR. FRANCE, after years of experience, has discovered the greatest cure known for all diseases peculiar to the sex. Female diseases positively cured by the new remedy, OLIVE BLOSSOM. The cure is effected by home treatment. Entirely harmless and easily applied. Consultation Free and Strictly Confidential. Correspondence promptly answered.

YOUNG MEN—Who have become victims of solitary vice, that dreadful and destructive habit, which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of exalted talent and brilliant intellect, may call with confidence.

DRS. FRANCE AND OTTMAN, after years of experience, have discovered the greatest cure known for weakness in the back and limbs, involuntary discharges, impotency, general debility, nervousness, languor, confusion of ideas, palpitation of the heart, timidity, trembling, dimness of sight, or giddiness, diseases of the head, throat, nose, or skin, affections of the liver, lungs, stomach, or bowels—those terrible disorders arising from the solitary vice of youth—and secret practices, blighting their most radiant hopes or anticipations, rendering marriage impossible. Take one candid thought before it is too late. A week or month may place your case beyond the reach of hope. Our method of treatment will speedily and permanently cure the most obstinate case, and absolutely restore perfect manhood.

TO MIDDLE-AGED MEN.—There are many from the age of 30 to 60 who are troubled with frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight burning or smarting sensation, weakening the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examination of the urinary deposits, a ropy sediment will be found, or the color will be a thin or milkish hue. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is a second stage of seminal weakness. We will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—We have a special department, thoroughly organized, and devoted exclusively to the treatment of diseases of women. Every case consulting our specialists, whether by letter or in person, is given the most careful and considerate attention. Important cases (and we get few which have not baffled the skill of all the home physicians) have the benefit of a full council of skilled specialists. In treatment of diseases peculiar to females, our success has been marked, over two thirds of our patients being ladies, old, young, married, single, rich and poor. Our method is entirely free from objectionable features of the general practitioner, namely, "Local treatment." We seldom find it necessary. We prepare remedies, constitutional and local, as the case demands, and instruct ladies how to treat themselves.

MARRIAGE.—Married persons, or young men contemplating marriage, aware of physical weakness, loss of procreative powers, impotency, or any other disqualification, speedily restored.

PRIVATE DISEASES.—Blood Poison, Venereal Taint, Gleet, Stricture, Seminal Emissions, Loss of Sexual Power, Weakness of Sexual Organs, Want of Desire in Male or Female, whether from imprudent habits of youth or sexual habits of mature years, or any cause that debilitates the sexual functions, speedily and permanently cured. Consultation free and strictly confidential. Absolute cures guaranteed. Medicines sent free from observation to all parts of the United States.

EPILEPSY, OR FITS—Positively cured by a new and never-failing method. Testimonials furnished.

FREE EXAMINATION OF THE URINE.—Each person applying for medical treatment should send or bring from 2 to 4 ounces of urine (that passed first in the morning preferred), which will receive a careful chemical and microscopical examination, and if requested a written analysis will be given.

Persons ruined in health by unlearned pretenders, who keep trifling with them month after month, giving poisonous and injurious compounds, should apply immediately. Delays are dangerous.

WONDERFUL CURES Perfected in old cases which have been neglected or unskillfully treated. No experiments or failures. Parties treated by mail or express, but where possible, personal consultation is preferred. Curable cases guaranteed. No risks incurred.

☞ Cases and correspondence confidential. Treatment sent C. O. D. to any part of U. S. List of 130 questions free. Address, with postage, DR. FRANCE. Nos. 38 and 40 W. Gay St., Columbus, O.

SOME SPICY CURRENT TOPICS

Of Local and Neighborhood Interest.

Notes and Comments on Incidents Occurring Daily—Prepared for Readers Who are Hustled for Time.

BONDS TO BE SOLD.

Council committee on ways and means meets this evening to sell four lots of improvement bonds, as follows: Erie street, $2,150; alley between Erie and Ontario streets, $1,189.58; Logan street, $6,572.38; sanitary deficiency bonds, $10,000.

MURDERER WANTED.

Circulars have been received in Toledo offering $10,000 reward for the arrest of Frederick Carlton Fitzsimmons, with several aliases, who escaped from the Allegheny county jail on September 14. Fitzsimmons is under indictment for the murder of Detective D. H. Gilkinson.

COURT VICTORY ENTERTAINMENT.

Court Victory, A. O. F., East Toledo, will hold a public installation at Weber's hall this evening, and preparations have been made for an elaborate entertainment. The welcome address will be by R. H. Finch, D. G. C. R. A splendid program will follow, and the evening will close with an exhibition drill by the Knights of Sherwood Forest.

POLISH EDITORS ORGANIZING.

A meeting that is likely to prove of importance to the Polish papers printed in America is being held in Detroit to-day and to-morrow. It is a national convention of Polish editors, and the object is to effect a permanent organization. The call for the meeting was sent out by Mr. Anton A. Paryski, of this city, who for some time has been endeavoring to bring about the result that will probably be attained this week.

TO THE TENT.

Rev. George Candee, pastor of Lagrange Street Congregational church, sends the following notice: Services will open in the Gospel tent, on corner of Lagrange and Yates streets, near Protestant Orphans' home, this evening at 7:30. Preaching every evening this week (D. V.) at 8 o'clock. Services conducted by Rev. McLain, a Friend preacher, and will be undenominational. All are invited to attend. Lagrange street car, Consolidated line, passes the tent. Forest cemetery car, Robison line, crosses Lagrange street four squares from the tent.

AT THE WORLD'S FAIR.

At a special meeting of the directors of the Woolson Spice company it was decided to have the institution represented at the world's fair, and with that end in view Manager Woolson was authorized to go ahead with the necessary arrangements, which will cost about $50,000. A special permit will be necessary as the establishment neither manufactures nor produces, and Commissioner Harvey Platt assures the directors that he will get the permit.

HEAVY SUIT AGAINST MR. SCHENCK.

In common pleas court to-day James B. Dooley filed a suit against Schuyler C. Schenck to recover $10,000 damages for injury.

The plaintiff states that the injuries were sustained while in the employ of the defendant dumping and unloading coal at the Wabash chutes. That on August 30, 1890, while exercising reasonable caution, his right hand was dragged between a cable and pulley of the hoisting machinery and crushed to such an extent that the member will always be disabled.

M. AND C. SAVINGS BANK CO.

The stockholders of the Merchants' and Clerks' savings institution organized Saturday afternoon under their new charter as a banking company, all the old directors being elected, as follows: Milton Taylor, James Blass, John E. Baily, Oliver S. Bond, William H. Scott, Henry W. Bigelow, E. Louis Schomburg, John Howard Lee, Boston, Mass. The officers are: Oliver S. Bond, president; John E. Bailey, vice president; E. Louis Schomburg, treasurer. The institution is one of the strongest in Ohio, and will undoubtedly continue to occupy a leading place in financial circles.

PRESENTATION TO PASTOR BETHARDS.

The official members of St. John's M. E. Church met at Mr. William Bartlett's on Magnolia street, Saturday evening, and moved in a body to the residence of Rev. J. H. Bethards, on Bush street, spending a very pleasant evening. During a lull one of the members, in a few words, presented Mr. Bethards with an elegant gold watch, inscribed with these words: "Rev. J. H. Bethards, from St. John's official board, September 1891." The reverend gentleman was completely taken by surprise, since he had not an inkling of the affair, but he responded feelingly for the gift.

PRESS CLUB MEETING.

A meeting of the Press club was held Saturday afternoon with good attendance. In the absence of President Cochran, the chair was occupied by Col. Charles Caughling. This was the first meeting after the summer vacation, and the club resolved to gather itself together for a good season this winter. Messrs. Caughling, Wilson and Van Buskirk were appointed a house committee to look after the club rooms, and it was resolved to make some improvements. It was also decided to hold a social meeting in the near future, and Messrs. Caughling, Stevens, Cooper and Miss Wood were appointed a committee to make the arrangements.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Miss M. Kuebbeler has returned from New York.

Charlie Roe, of Detroit, spent Sunday with his parents.

Mrs. Henry Hane has recovered from a recent serious illness.

Mrs. M. C. Moore and Master Ed. will spend the winter in the south.

Mrs. G. W. Pollock has returned from a three months' trip through the east.

Mr. M. C. Moore left for Springfield this morning to be absent several weeks.

Mrs. James Church has returned to Indianapolis after a pleasant visit with Mrs. Moore.

Miss Estrea Crumhorn, of Detroit, is visiting the Misses Cousino, of Walnut street.

Sybil Moore will entertain her young friends Thursday evening in honor of her birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sol Lassalle returned yesterday from their wedding trip. They will soon be settled in their new home on Fourteenth street.

Mrs. E. Ricard and sister, Rose LaPlante have returned after a four weeks' visit, with friends at Chicago, Sioux City and South Dakota.

Judge P. A. MacGahan has returned from a month's stay in the Catskill mountains. He is hale and hearty, and will now settle down to business in earnest.

Mr. Eugene A. Jefferson, an old Toledo boy, was in the city to-day on a flying trip among friends. He is on his way from Chicago to Philadelphia, which he expects to make his future home.

A delightful reception was held at the Outing club Saturday evening. The members enjoyed themselves with music and dancing, and delicious refreshments were served during the evening.

Mrs. James Dority and family, of Adams street, leave to-day for Brooklyn, where they take up their permanent residence. The departure of the family is very much regretted by friends and neighbors, who wish them health, happiness and prosperity in the home of their adoption.

A GOOD SELECTION.

Mr. Wm. Walcott, the jeweler, has just received the unsolicited appointment of Division Inspector of Watches for the Toledo Division of the L. S. & M. S. Ry. The company is fortunate in their selection of so reliable a jeweler for this responsible position.

CATHOLIC LEAGUE FORMED.

Largely Attended Meeting at Hamilton Yesterday—Toledo Delegates Return.

The Toledo delegates to the Hamilton convention whereat it was proposed to form a state league of the Catholic Knights of America, returned last evening.

Those present were enthusiastic, and urged the formation of the new organization. The organizers expect to start off with at least 1,300 members, which they hope to double in one year. Words of encouragement were received from all parts of Ohio.

Among those present were Phillip Fabian Galion, Fred Albers, Henry Kistner, John Deasy and M. Givers, Cincinnati; J. J. Pater, Robt. Allstatter and J. F. Milan, Hamilton; Phillip Kalthenthaler, Mansfield; Peter Zeigler and F. J. Weisenberger, Defiance; J. M. Gorman, J. Geo. Vollmayer, J. T. Lawless, J. J. Hood, J. C. Phelan, and Joe Murphy, Toledo; J. P. Foose, James Golden, B. Smacker and Chas. Kneipp, Dayton; J. B. Eherenfried, Tiffin; Mich. Reilly, Akron; Joen Hochenedel, Jos. Schwartz and Theo. Fichs, Fremont; H. Saunders, Eaton; Jos. Kindly, Otto Sommers and John Hutz, Delphos.

The following state officers were elected to serve until next state council to be held at Defiance, O., September 11, 1892:

President—J. J. Pater, Hamilton.
Vice president—John Hochenedel, Fremont.
Secretary—Henry Kistner, Cincinnati.
Treasurer—J. C. Phelan, Toledo.
Trustees—Jas. Bolan, Dayton; F. J. Weisenburger, Defiance, and John Deasy, Cincinnati.
Medical examiner—Dr. J. T. Lawless, Toledo.

A constitution and by-laws were adopted.

There are many improvements on the old order, among which may be mentioned that the state officers shall designate a national bank within the state as a depository, and no monies shall be paid from the same except upon voucher signed by the president, secretary and treasurer, and all remittances from branches will be directed to said depository. All medical examiners are appointed subject to the approval of the state examiner.

Hon. P. G. O'Rourke, of Indiana, late supreme vice president of the C. K. of A., was present, giving words of advice and encouragement.

All members of the C. K. of A. will be admitted at the old rate and age if they accept membership within six months from date of charter of new order.

HE MAY CHANGE HIS MIND.

Fitzgerald in a Great Hurry to Die.

A Murderer in the Ohio Penitentiary Who Longs for the World Beyond.

Columbus, O., Sept. 21.—William Fitzgerald, the Youngstown murderer, awaiting execution in the penitentiary annex for killing a policeman, wants to be hanged immediately.

He has become very despondent within the last few days. It was learned today that Fitzgerald called Warden Dyer into the annex the other evening to tell him about his troubles.

He wanted the warden to come into the cage and then into his cell, where they sat on the side of the bed and talked.

Fitzgerald said he wanted to die right away and desired to know if the warden could not execute him immediately.

The warden told him that would be utterly impossible. Because of the number of conflicting stories Fitzgerald has told, and the fact that he denied being in the Michigan penitentiary, together with his despondency, Warden Dyer has not shown Fitzgerald the letter he received from the warden of the Michigan prison with the photographs.

The next execution will be that of Henry Wherli, of Tuscarawas county, on October 16. Fitzgerald's date is November 19.

STRAIGHT CHANNEL SUIT

Between the Contractors—General and Local Marine.

In common pleas court to-day Lewis P. Smith and James A. Smith instituted proceedings against James Rodney for an injunction and other relief.

The plaintiff in his petition says that on November 10, 1890, the United States government, through its agent, Major of Engineer L. Cooper Overman advertised for sealed proposals for dredging material from the mouth of the Maumee river and Maumee bay along the line of the proposed straight channel for Toledo harbor, known as the "Bay Division." The plaintiffs state that they submitted sealed proposals which were the lowest and accordingly a contract was entered into to construct those portions of the bay division as had been sub-divided and known as the "turn-out sub-division."

They further state that the defendant entered into a contract with the government to construct that part of the bay division known as the "crib sub-division," and between these divisions there only exists an imaginary line, but are well understood by all interested.

The plaintiffs charge that the defendant has completed his contract, and now threatens to immediately enter upon the construction of that portion of the channel incorporated in their contract.

A preliminary injunction was granted by Judge Pugsley.

City of Toledo Laid Up.

The City of Toledo has laid up for the balance of the season. The company has decided to enlarge her rudder, with the view that better time can be made in shallow water.

New Steam Yacht.

A new 40 foot open steam yacht is being completed at Craig's ship yards. She has fore and aft compound engines and it is expected that she will make some fast time. The boat is for Messrs. George and John Craig.

Notes.

The schooner Porter is at the Ohio Central docks.

The schooner Grover was brought in by the tug Doan last evening.

The tug Roy took the schooner Marion W. Page up through the rivers.

The barges L. Seaton and Keepsake are undergoing some repairs at Gilmore's dry dock.

The steamer Thomas R. Scott and consort, Conrad Reid, lumber laden, arrived last evening.

Wilson De Hart, formerly chief engineer of the steamer Pastime, is now engineer of the tug Doan.

The schooner C. H. Burton, which came in here leaking badly is being repaired in Gilmore's dry dock.

The steamers Serina, James Pickands, barge 105 and schooners Grover and Michigan are at the Hocking dock.

The Ironville docks are well filled today with vessels loading coal. There are the steamer Salina, schooners Prussia, O. J. Hall, Wm. Raynor, G. W. Wesley and Shiawassee.

ANOTHER HAPPY HOME.

This forenoon a beautiful Vose & Sons' piano, in an elegant mahogany case, was seen going out Jefferson street in the delivery wagon of J. W. Greene & Co. Upon inquiry it was learned that this splendid instrument is to grace the pleasant home of Mr. Robt. P. Kramer, of Oakwood avenue, who is the fortunate purchaser.

W. COWEN DEAD.

Mansfield, O., Sept. 21.—Washington Cowen, aged 80 years and a prominent citizen of this city, died to-day after an illness of 10 days. Mr. Cowen was a director of the B. & O. railroad and the father of John K. Cowen, attorney for the B. & O. railroad at Baltimore; Mrs. Frank Ames, Mrs. Minor T. Ames, Mrs. A. H. Seely and Miss Elnora Cowen, all of Chicago. His wife also survives him.

Wheat Quotations for the Day—Price Current for Produce and Other Articles.

The market quotations in the BEE are compiled from United Press special dispatches and from reports received by the Toledo Produce Exchange, and specially arranged by Mr. Denison B. Smith, secretary of the Exchange.

OFFICE OF THE TOLEDO BEE, }
TOLEDO, O., Sept. 21. }

London wheat markets firmly held, turn dearer; Corn, turn dearer. Weather, showery. Liverpool wheat strong and one penny higher. Corn, dull.

The receipts of wheat at seven principal western points to-day are 1,371,775 bu, compared with 495,495 bu on the same day last year.

Wheat stocks—Toledo decreased 154,133 bu; New York increased 391,092 bu.

The Liverpool Corn Trade News says: The wheat crop of Roumania is estimated at 7,500,000 qrs, compared with nearly 9,000,000 qrs last season. The reports of wheat for the last 12 months amounted to 3,300,000 qrs, via the Danube for the ensuing 12 months it is calculated that less than 2,000,000 qrs will be shipped down the Danube.

No 3 red winter wheat at Chicago closed Saturday at 90c; Toledo at 94¾c to 95c.

The receipts of wheat to-day at seven principal western points are 876,280 bu in excess of the corresponding Monday in 1890.

The export clearances Saturday at four Atlantic ports were 435,750 bu of wheat and flour, to an aggregate of 525,000 bu.

English markets as reported herein are strong and higher for wheat and dull for corn.

The visible supply of wheat was increased last week 2,608,000 bu; corn, 1,163,000 bu; oats, 438,000 bu. In the corresponding week in 1890 wheat increased 70,000 bu; corn increased 376,000 bu; oats increased 12,626 bu.

The shipments of wheat from India last week equaled 840,000 bu. Previous week 800,000 bu. Since April 1, the beginning of this crop year, to Sept 19 33,660,000 bu, compared with 13,720 bu in the corresponding period in 1890.

Wheat Consumption Abroad.

It is a very remarkable year in the production of wheat. Almost every nationality on the other side of the ocean has a deficient yield. Indeed we do not know of one, besides Italy, that claims a full production. In this respect the year is unprecedented in history. There is one feature in the crop returns that it will not do to ignore, and that is, that quite generally, where wheat failed, oats and barley are large crops, and the point is that the laboring people on that side can make and use a good barley loaf, and oat meal is a nutritious and healthy food. These substitutes will take the place of a good deal of wheat, especially if prices should advance much.

Bradstreets' contains estimates of the world's deficiency in wheat made by Mr. Bear, Mr. Harris and Dornbusch. Of course there is great variation, and we get tired of comparisons. The minds of dealers are fully settled upon the fact of a production of wheat below the average consumption, and while future prices will be sure to represent that fact more or less, we sincerely hope that no attempts will be made towards cornering the markets. The discrepancy between production and consumption can be evened up by great economy and the use of substitutes.

The markets for wheat on this side have ruled very strong and at improved prices. New York opened 2c up on Dec and maintained that and more through the session. Chicago started 1⅛ to 1¾c better and has been higher.

Corn is rather higher in Chicago and rather lower in New York. Chicago reports shipping engagements there to-day for one million bu corn, which looks as though some one was interested in moving it from that market.

At the close December wheat was 2c higher in New York, and October corn ⅜c lower.

In Chicago December wheat gained 1¾c and October ⅜c.

In Toledo we have had a day of active trading in wheat futures and at improved prices. The fluctuations have been frequent but within narrow limits and the close showing a gain of 1½c. On the call December wheat sold at $1 03 to $1 03⅜ and May at $1 09½.

After the call September sold at 99¾c and closed at $1 00; October at $1 00 to $1 00½; December at $1 03¾ to $1 04 and closed at $1 03½; May sold at $1 09¾ to $1 10½ and closed at $1 10.

Cash wheat was in active request for shipment. Sales were light. No 2 soft at 99½ to $1 00, a gain of 1½c; No 3 soft at 97c to 96¾c; rejected No 1 at 89c; No 2 81c; No 2 White at 97c.

Corn No 2 at 54c; No 3 at 53c; No 2 yellow at 54½c; No 3 yellow at 56c; rejected was steady; No 2 at 92@92½c; No 3 at 88½c.

Clover seed—Clover seed was about 5c better, and the tone of the market is stronger. Prime seed is scarce, as the receipts do not grade. It would not surprise us to see a better market. On the call October seed sold at $4 52½ and December at $4 55. After the call prime for cash $4 60, October $4 50@4 52½, December at $4 55; No 2 at $4 10@4 30.

AVERY S. HILL.

Testimonial to His Worth—Funeral This Afternoon.

The Lucas county bar met at 1:30 this afternoon, in Judge Pugsley's court room, from where they proceeded and attended the funeral of the late Avery S. Hill. The committee appointed to draft suitable resolutions reported the following, which were adopted:

Avery Sedgwick Hill, son of the late Gen. Charles W. Hill, was born in Toledo December 5, 1846; graduated from the Toledo High school in 1866; graduated with high honors from the law department of the University of Michigan in 1868; was admitted to the bar in this county in 1869, and immediately entered upon the practice of the law with his father, under the name of C. W. & A. S. Hill, which partnership was terminated by the death of his father. Thereafter Mr. Hill continued the practice of the law alone until 1888, when he retired from the practice, having been appointed one of the official stenographers of this court, under the provisions of a law passed that year, which position he continued to occupy until his death, which occurred suddenly at his residence, in this city, on Friday evening, September 18th, 1891, at 11 o'clock.

In 1874 Mr. Hill was married to Miss Ida R. Klauser, only daughter of the late Dr. Klauser, who, with three children, survive him.

Mr. Hill was thoroughly grounded in the principles of the law, and loved it as a science, but being of sensitive disposition, he was averse to the contentions incident to its active practice. By inclination and natural gift, he was preeminently a linguist, and devoted much time and study to the acquisition of a thorough knowledge of the modern languages, especially of the German, in which he became highly proficient; indeed, it is said of him (Mr. Hill,) that not excepting our more cultured German born citizens, he was one of the best informed men in the state as to Germany, German history and literature, both belle letters, scientific, historical and legal. He was a perfect master of the German language, and spoke and wrote it with with the greatest accuracy. He also had a reading knowledge of the French and Polish languages.

Mr. Hill was a high-minded gentleman, a kind and affectionate husband and father, possessed of an unusual high order of general attainments, genial and sociable in disposition, courteous in his intercourse with others, and upright in all his dealings. His sudden death is a shock which will be felt by his large circle of friends generally, but more especially by the members of the bar who have been accustomed to meet him from day to day, all of whom join with his family in mourning his untimely death. We extend to his family and relatives our sincere sympathy, and ask the court to place upon its records this memorial, as an expression of his worth on the part of the bar of Lucas county.

Resolved, That a copy of the foregoing memorial be signed by the committee and attested by the chairman and secretary of this meeting, and transmitted to the family and relatives of our late brother.

DEMOCRATIC Senatorial Convention.

The democrats of the Thirty-Third Senatorial district will assemble in the city of Ottawa, Putnam county, on Thursday, September 24, at 10 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of placing in nomination two candidates to represent the district in the Ohio Senate.

The basis of apportionment is fixed at one delegate for every 100 votes and fraction over 50 cast for Hon. T. E. Cromley, candidate for secretary of state in November, 1890.

Each county will be entitled to representation as follows:

	Vote.	Delegates.
Wood	4,129	41
Lucas	7,361	74
Putnam	3,539	35
Henry	3,333	33
Fulton	1,953	20
Hancock	4,674	47
Total		250

By order of the committee.
H. C. GROSCHNER, Chairman.
W. H. HANDY, Secretary.

Lucas county democrats now have a chance for a victory. A united and energetic campaign will do the work.

The people of Lucas county are disgusted with the policy of public be d—d Englehardt. Hundreds of republicans will vote for Foster R. Warren.

Extravagance in county affairs, and a depleted county treasury are the strongest arguments in favor of the election of the democratic ticket this fall.

The magnificent and terrific arraignment of the republican party for its misdeeds, made by Hon. Roger Q. Mills at Mansfield, is a fitting second to Gov. Campbell's masterly speech at Sidney. The robber protectionists will soon be on the run.

Admiral Flickinger is preparing a German speech, which he will deliver during the campaign. He cannot, however, palliate the offense of denying his nationality by making a set speech in the language of the Fatherland. The admiral will be badly beaten.

In a speech in the house last winter Major McKinley asserted that the country could not survive unless the civil service reform law was rigorously enforced. Now the Ohio clerks in the departments at Washington are asked and expected to contribute to the republican campaign fund which is to assist in electing McKinley governor of Ohio, and the Major says never a word against it.

The democratic convention Saturday adopted a resolution favoring the abolition of extravagant salaries paid to county officials. John Kumler introduced a similar resolution in the late republican county convention, but he was hooted down, and the committee on resolutions spurned it with contempt. The democratic party of Lucas county favors economy in public affairs, and will be indorsed by the people.

The secretary of the interior decides that the words "white settlement" in the Sac and Fox agreement do not mean what they say. It is a pity the treaty was not differently drawn then, inasmuch as the prejudice against colored persons settling on these lands is such that bloodshed will probably accompany the attempt, which would not have been the case had the law been clearly stated by the department.

President Likens, of the Ohio Farmers' Alliance, announces that he is not of the People's party in this state. No one who knows the gentleman, or the history of the alliance he represents, imagined he was. When Mr. Likens' re-election was secured last November, by the aid of republican state senator, Jesse N. Oren, and that republican fugleman, General Hurst, the Bee sized Mr. Likens up as a republican during election times and a prohibitionist the rest of the year, and has since seen no reason to change its opinion.

The world hears with a shock of surprise that the unhappy Balmaceda is dead by his own hand. So ends the last possibility of opposition to the immediate re-establishment of constitutional government in Chile, and so far well. Have the motives of Balmaceda been misjudged, and his acts unduly censured if not calumniated? His almost dying words would give that impression. It is at least satisfactory to read the ex-president's declaration that our Minister Egan advised him against taking the course of usurpation which ends in this suicidal death. To speak nothing but good of the dead is a degree of charity which cannot be extended to one who sought to achieve his country's enslavement, but we can well believe that evil advisers surrounded and influenced Balmaceda in the days of his power, and that the mockery of their evil councils sounded aright in his ears only when, deserted by them in his fall, he looked back upon his course in what by his own decison was the hour of his death.

Candidate McKinley orated in Cincinnati on Saturday evening, and Music hall, where he spoke, was filled to overflowing. Lest the Major should go away too much inflated with the hope that all the citizens who listened to him in September would vote for him in November the Cincinnati Enquirer reads him this lesson:

At the close of the campaign two years ago, your friend Foraker (not your intimate friend, perhaps; but let that pass) had in the armory as large an audience as you had in Music hall last night. And it was booming in enthusiasm. The governor, who had been doubtful before, looked at the sea of faces and made up his mind that he would carry Hamilton county triumphantly and be re-elected. Lo, on the following Tuesday, Hamilton county went against him by about 7,500, and he went down to defeat in the state.

"History repeats itself," is the inference the Enquirer would have Candidate McKinley draw from its resume of conditions two years ago. The Enquirer is right, and if Major McKinley does not want to come down too hard when the returns are counted, he will rate his Cincinnati reception at its worth. Hamilton county is in line for Campbell.

THE ISSUE IN OHIO.

The real issue of the Ohio campaign was defined by Hon. Roger Q. Mills, of Texas, when he poured hot shot into the protection platform last Saturday at Mansfield. His review of the conditions of the day and his indictment of the party responsible for "the unnecessary intermeddling of the government" in the personal and private affairs of the people are unanswerable.

The endeavor of Ohio republican campaigners to confine the people to a discussion of the silver question is well met by Mr. Mills. Free coinage of silver, which the democrats of Ohio demand, is one means toward the end which that party strives to secure, the prosperity of all the people, but its achievement is not the paramount issue, for the reason that such achievement does not of itself secure the desired end. As Mr. Mills says:

"It is not the scarcity of money in the country, it is the scarcity of money in the pockets of the people who earn it that produces the distress. If our circulation were to-day double what it is, and it were all in the pockets of 100,000 people, our condiiton would not be bettered, but it would be worse than it is. It is not the small circulation. It is the small distribution that plagues us."

By chicanery concerning currency the republican party in this state seeks to divert the people from the real issue of the campaign, but that issue is correctly named by Mr. Mills. It is "excessive taxation; remorseless, confiscating taxation; indirect, concealed, hypocritical, exhaustive and blighting taxation."

The citations which Mr. Mills makes of the loss to the producers and consumers of this country which the McKinley tariff imposes, and which they bear that a few monopolies, combinations and trusts may be built up at the expense of the country should appeal, as he appeals, to the men who by their votes have returned to power for thirty years the party that in the interest of these un-American institutions has enacted this class legislation, and created this class domination.

The tariff question is understood by no American statesman better than by Mr. Mills, and his analysis of its provisions, and of the effect of these provisions upon honest capital, upon the farmer, upon the laborer, should be carefully studied. In calling attention to the real condition of the country, notwithstanding its apparent wealth, to "millions in debt, homes mortgaged, labor powerless," Mr. Mills voices the general discontent of the masses. In demanding the repeal of that system of taxation for the benefit of a class which is responsible for this condition, he points out the straight road to a change of conditions for the better

The election of Major McKinley in November means an indorsement of the infamous system of taxation, the monstrous wrong to the people, for which he more than any other man stands representative. A tariff that robs and impoverishes all the people to benefit a few is the real and entire platform of the republican party in Ohio. The democracy seeks the overthrow of that tariff by the defeat of its High Priest. Here is the issue in the Ohio campaign. If the people are in earnest in their revolt from intolerable conditions, the election of the democratic ticket in Ohio this year will strike the death blow of McKinleyism.

WHAT OF THE REST?

BLAMED ON HENZLER.

The Investigating Committee Has a Star Ssssion.

Several Witnesses on the Stand and Considerable Fun Attached to the Evidence.

The committee which was appointed at the republican county convention to investigate the circular episode, met Saturday afternoon at the office of Erskine H. Potter.

The committee investigated, but the investigation did not change the preconceived opinion of the investigators, who were of the opinion that the circulars were brought into the convention in the interest of Dr. Henzler.

Several witnesses were examined, including Drs. Reynolds, Howe, Aris and Henzler. Dr. Beckwith, the republican nominee, was invited to be present, but did not appear.

The witnesses who were examined did not admit that they knew anything about the matter of the circulars, but the fact that they were brought into the convention hall by B. F. Reno, was established.

After the committee had concluded to adjourn till this afternoon, Dr. Henzler and Dr. Reynolds had a little set-to on the sidewalk.

"How was it that you wanted Beckwith nominated by acclamation?" said Henzler to Reynolds.

"I did not," was the latter's retort.

"Oh, yes, you did," said Dr. Henzler. "I heard you move to suspend the rules."

"Well, I was mad," said Reynolds, "and I wanted to see Beckwith nominated after the circulars were brought in."

"What do you know about those circulars?" said Henzler.

"More than you want me to tell, and more than anybody will find out," snapped Reynolds as he walked off down street.

HELLER ON THE RACK.

The Federal Building Inquisitors Seduce a Foraker Man.

The Promise Wrung From Him to Oppose Griffin.

He Will Support the Maumee Statesman for Speaker on Conditions Which the Hon. Charlie Cannot Accept.

Candidate Heller was on the rack in Postmaster Brown's office a few days ago for several hours, and the result is Heller, like Flickinger, has promised everything and anything the Shermanites asked him for.

He refused at first to commit himself to Sherman, and did first and last refuse to support him in the caucus. He said he did not consider it policy to commit himself at this stage of the game.

"What we want to know," said Mr. Brown, "is will you or will you not support Griffin for the speakership?"

"Mr. Griffin and I have talked the matter over," said Heller evasively, "and while I am not committed to him I cannot see how I can oppose him."

"Make your vote conditional," remarked the astute P. M.

"Conditional? How?"

"Well, tell him you will support him for the speakership on condition that he supports Sherman for the senate."

"Y-e-s (doubtfully). I could do that perhaps."

"Come, now, say you will do so and we will turn in and elect you."

"But suppose I tell him so now—why, it would mean certain defeat."

"Well, you don't want to mention the matter until after election. It will elect you and let you out of a hole afterwards."

"Personally I favor Sherman, and while I don't think it is policy to say so just now, I think Mr. Sherman deserves to go back to the senate for the services he has rendered the republican party."

"We don't want any Flickinger business in this," said Mr. Brown significantly. "We believe you mean what you say, and consequently we will stand by you and use our best effort to elect you. What do you say?"

"Oh, I will agree to your proposition."

Brown rubbed his hands together gleefully while Waldorf arose and stepping up to Heller placed his hand on his shoulder.

"Mr. Heller, let me tell you something, you are on the winning side. Foraker is not in it, and I know whereof I speak when I say that Sherman will go back to the United States senate."

A gentleman who was present, an United States official, was asked by a BEE what statement Heller made at the conference.

"He refused to commit himself to either side," was the reply, "and I think he is still on the fence."

"Did he not promise to vote for Griffin for the speakership only on condition that he (Griffin) should vote for Sherman?"

G. O. (surprised)—"Who told you that?"

"Never mind who. Is it true?"

"It is not true. Mr. Heller did say he would support Griffin, but he misunderstood the question propounded and corrected himself."

"When—at that conference?"

"No, the next day."

"Who was present the next day when Heller made the retraction?"

"Mr. Brown, myself and one other."

This is a very transparent tale. Heller does not require 24 hours to digest the purport of a simple question, nor is it at all likely that even if he did reconsider the question that he would dare tell Jim Brown so.

Not much. Heller is for Sherman and against Griffin.

The facts as above given came direct from a party who was present at the conference.

These things cannot be truthfully denied.

First—Heller was present at such a conference.

Second—He was asked if he was for or against Griffin for the speakership.

Third—Heller gave his promise as stated above to support Griffin on the conditions mentioned.

Fourth—That it was mutually agreed that the matter should be kept secret until after election.

HEART IN THE WRONG PLACE

Medical Experts Have a Peculiar Case.

A Young Man in a Philadelphia Hospital Who is Attracting Much Attention.

Philadelphia, Sept. 21.—Philadelphia's medical experts will shortly have a chance to examine a most curious case—that of a young man suffering from pleurisy and who has a mass of water in his left lung so heavy that it has forced his heart out of its proper position downward and over to the right side.

The young man, whose name is withheld at his request, is now a patient at the Home for Consumptives, on Spruce street above Fourth.

His presence in that institution is due to the fact that several physicians who have examined him have made incorrect diagnoses of his case and pronounced it consumption. He has no home.

When Dr. W. M. Agney, the physician in charge, examined the new-comer he found that some mistake had been made in the diagnosis of the case, and that the young man was not suffering from consumption. The trouble was pleurisy of an aggravated form, which had been complicated by lack of nourishment and ill-treatment.

A further examination proved that the young man's heart was far out of its proper place. The doctor set about building up the patient's constitution, preparatory to performing an operation, found to be absolutely necessary, and he is now much improved in health. As he is willing to undergo the operation, it will be done in a few days. When seen yesterday he appeared as cheerful and happy as could be expected under the circumstances.

Although very weak he is not confined to bed and is able to walk around and wait on himself and assist the feebler patients. He removed the clothing from the upper part of his body and gave a visitor who called to see him a chance to examine him. There was a marked difference between the two sides of his body and the heart was found beating on the right side just below the last ribs. Another patient was obliging enough to strip off his shirt for a comparison, and the remarkable difference in the position of the hearts of the two men was apparent.

In order to relieve the young man it will be necessary to make an incision and draw off the water which has accumulated in his left lung. By thus relieving the pressure the heart will be gradually allowed to go back to its proper place, which it is hoped can be done without injury to the patient. The case will attract great attention from medical men, as such instances of heart removal are very rare.

TO MARK HUDSON'S LANDING.

Atlantic Highlands, N. J., Sept. 21.—The committee having in charge the erection of a monument to mark the spot where Henry Hudson first landed on the Jersey soil, prior to his discovery of the Hudson river, has concluded to receive plans for a monument to be erected and dedicated the 9th of September next, that being the date in 1609 when Hudson was driven ashore by a storm on the beach where now stand Atlantic Highlands. The monument is to be of great height, and placed on the highest point of land overlooking Sandy Hook point. It will be the first thing seen by a foreigner as he approaches our shores.

DEDICATION SERVICES.

Corner Stone of the New Polish Catholic Church Laid—A Vast Attendance.

Yesterday was a gala day in the Polish settlement of the Eighth and Ninth wards The corner stone of the new church—St. Anthony's—was laid with the customary impressive and imposing cermonies, and the attendance was such as taxed the capacity of the streets in the vicinity.

As per arrangement the Catholic societies of the city met at the rendevouz, the City park, at 1 p. m. and marched in a procession to the church.

Mgr. Boff, administrator of the diocese, officiated, and the address was delivered by the Rev. Victor Zarenzhy, of Buffalo, in the Polish language.

The cermonies attending the laying of the corner stone were of the usual impressive nature.

The Polish people showed their patriotism by displaying the national colors at every possible point. The decorations were profuse and handsome.

The marshals of the various divisions were:

Grand Marshal—Charles Czarnecki.
Division I—Joseph Placcner.
Division II—Jos. Gomulski.

The societies represented in the procession were: St. Dominicks, St. Joseph, St. Aloisius, St. Stanslaus, Ancient Order of Hibernians and Catholic Knights of America.

At the conclusion of the ceremonies the societies disbanded and the immense assemblage present dispersed.

POLITICAL BRIGANDAGE.

A Case of Stand and Deliver.

Clerks Held Up to Pay for Campaign Powder.

Civil Service Law Has Been Wiped From the Books so Far as the Administration is Concerned.

Washington, Sept. 21.—While Mr. Theodore Roosevelt, civil service commissioner and professional reformer, is enjoying himself at his Dakota ranch, the republican employes of the departments here at Washington are being bled by different harpies in the interest of campaign funds.

The Ohio clerks from all accounts are being worked for all they are worth, and the terror of dismissal or degradation is held up before them in a mild kind of a way unless they put up their cash promptly.

It seems that an assessment against the Ohio clerks in Washington has been regularly made by the executive committee of the state and collectors have been sent down here to take it up. The affairs of the committee are in the hands of Judge Lowry, of Kent, O., who is now in Washington on this business. The selection of Judge Lowry is the cause of complaint on the part of some of the republicans, and it promises to revive the Sherman-Foraker feud among Ohioans in this city. Judge Lowry was elected clerk of the state senate a few years ago by the vote of the bolting democrats. For five or six years he was a member of the republican state committee. Subsequently he left Ohio and came to Washington. Now he is calling upon the Ohio employes in the different departments and holding them up. The amount of his demand is 5 per cent. of the salary drawn. The clerks are protesting energetically against this, and claim that by the time they pay their expenses home to vote their assessment will be 6 or 7 per cent. of their salaries, and a few of them are brave enough to declare that they will never pay it. Two years ago, when Foraker was a candidate against Campbell, some of these clerks say the most they were called upon to contribute was 2 per cent. of their salaries.

"There is one thing about this matter that the republicans who never bolt and are always ready for duty cannot understand," said an office-holder who occupies a $2,000 place in one of the departments to your correspondent to-day, "and that is the change in front of these men having charge of this business.

"Last year when Foraker was a candidate these men did nothing, not even going home to vote, while this year, when there is a United States senator to elect and Sherman is in danger, they are hustling like beavers and trying to bleed everybody."

Capt. Jacob Donaldson, one of the clerks of the senate, also comes in for some criticism. It is said of him that two years ago he was too busy to go home to vote when McKinley asked him to go to Ohio.

This year he not only finds time to go, but has been, it is said, in Columbus for the past two months lounging about the headquarters of the state committee and keeping his eye on the interests of Senator Sherman. There is no doubt that there is a well-defined division in the ranks of the Ohio contingent in Washington.

The anti-Sherman men seem determined not to pay money over to a committee that is supposed by them to be making all ends serve the Sherman cause. Many of them claim when the collector calls upon them that they have forwarded their subscription, such as it is, to the chairman of their home county committee.

This is, of course, a mere ruse in many cases, and many Foraker men in the departments, being suspicious that funds collected here were to be used in the interest of Sherman, have been sending their little quota direct to Foraker or to the chairman of their local county committee if he happens to be a Foraker man.

The clerks and employes who are not under the alleged protection of the civil service are protesting against the extent of their assessment compared with the contribution of the men in the classified service, who think they have done their duty when they contribute $10. The average amount expected from the others is $25, and this difference is what causes the kick.

The chances are that the matter will come up for discussion at the next meeting of the Ohio Republican association, and if it does there will be lively times.

Many of McKinley's friends here, and some of Foraker's friends, also, are throwing out deep hints that John Sherman will sell the state ticket in the interest of members of the legislature in his own interest.

The Sherman men, of course, indignantly deny this, but that there is bad feeling between the different factions there is no doubt, and that it will come out forcibly before the campaign is over is equally certain. In the meantime the civil service commission seems to have gone to sleep.

Roosevelt, as before stated, is taking his vacation on his western ranch, but Lyman and Thompson are still here. Why they do not exercise their authority and try to save the poor clerks from the political brigands who are here to bleed them is one of those things that friends of civil service reform find it difficult to explain.

THE SCHOOLS WILL REOPEN.

Arrangements To Receive the Christian Brothers at St. Francis de Sales.

Yesterday at both services Rev. Dr. Quigley announced that a meeting of parishoners would be held Wednesday evening at St. Francis de Sales hall for the purpose of devising means and ways for furnishing the residence leased for the Christian Brothers on Huron street.

Dr. Quigley also announced that the schools will reopen two weeks from today. The boys of the higher grades will be under the supervision of the Christian Brothers in the Huron street building and the girls in charge of the sisters at the parochial schools.

THINK WELL OF IT.

Toledo Democrats on the County Ticket.

Unanimous Opinion That It Could Not be Stronger,

And Many Predictions Made That It Will be Elected—The Harmony of the Convention a Token of Victory.

The harmonious action of Saturday's democratic convention is indorsed by the Lucas county democrats with unanimity. The general opinion prevails that the ticket in its entirety is one of the best ever nominated by the Lucas county democracy, one which is inherently strong and will command respect and support.

In the selection of the ticket no feuds were engendered, and the nominations were made in that spirit, which of itself presages victory on election day. The better element of the party was dominant. The scenes which have especially characterized republican conventions in Lucas county for several years, were noticeably absent.

The main portion of the ticket is composed of young men who will push their claims in an energetic manner before the people. The following opinions of democrats on the nominations will be read with interest:

W. J. Colburn—Its a great ticket, one that ought to be elected, and will be if the proper kind of a campaign is conducted.

Byron F. Ritchie—It was one of the most harmonious conventions I ever presided over, and the ticket in my opinion is a very strong one. It ought to be elected, and will be if democrats stand up and fight in the old-fashioned manner. The taxpayers of Lucas county are up in arms against the extravagant manner in which affairs have been conducted and the plunderers will be swept from their official places."

Capt. P. H. Dowling—I was opposed to Harry's nomination for sheriff. I was pledged to John J. Hackett, and tried to prevent the nomination, but was powerless. The convention hooted me down when I undertook to withdraw his name. The ticket is a strong one, and has much to commend it to the favorable consideration of the public.

R. J. Wallace—That ticket will give 'em quite a scare. The boys are all popular and will make energetic campaigns. They have a chance this fall and will accept it.

Peter Lynch—It is the most available ticket that has been nominated by Lucas county democrats for years and ought to be elected. The convention was the most harmonious I ever attended.

Dr. E. D. Scheble—That ticket is all right. It is very strong and ought to be elected. There is not a man on it to whom anybody can object.

A. T. Colburn—It's all right, the nominations could not have been improved upon, and a hustling campaign will show good results.

Curtis T. Johnson—The ticket is an admirable one and will be elected. The manner in which it was nominated should encourage democrats to make an extra effort this fall.

Frank E. Wright—The ticket is all right. We will elect it.

John Cavanaugh—It suits me first rate.

W. H. Morehouse—It is certainly a strong ticket with all the elements necessary to success.

Henry Ernsthausen—We'll elect that ticket. Mark what I tell you.

M. J. Malone—The greatest ticket ever nominated by the democrats of Lucas county, and it will be elected. You will see a political revolution in Lucas county this fall.

C. W. Murphy—Strongest ticket that could have been made. It will find favor with the people.

B. F. Sheehan—What do I think of it? It's a dandy, and the democracy of Lucas county ought to win.

Dr. W. S. Jones—A very commendable ticket. Booth for representative is particularly strong.

D. J. Murphy—The ticket is one to which but few objections can be made.

Cal Herbeck—It is the best ticket ever nominated in Lucas county and will be elected.

Louis G. Richardson—It is immense and they cannot beat it. No democrat can object to a single candidate.

P. H. Degnan—Couldn't be improved upon. Republicans have told me it is good enough for them to vote.

John C. Phelan—It is a winning ticket from top to bottom.

Councilman Coleman—It is a thoroughly good ticket and will be elected.

CENTRAL OHIO CONFERENCE

Preliminary Examinations to be Held To-Morrow.

Promise of a Large Attendance of Pastors and Visitors—Bishop Newman to Arrive To-Morrow—The Examining Committees.

From the letters received by the local committee on arrangements, there promises to be a large attendance at the Central Ohio conference gathering this week. Many of the veterans who have been on the supernumary and superannuated lists for years expect to take advantage of Toledo's central location to greet their former associates.

To-morrow morning at 9 o'clock the various classes will be examined at St. John's church parlors by the following committees, the members of which will arrive this evening:

For admission on trial—Wm. Deal, I. N. Smith, J. H. Fitzwater.

First year—J. M. Mills, Peter Biggs, M. M. Figley.

Second year—J. W. Miller, J. M. Avann, G. B. Wiltsie.

Third year—E. D. Whitlock, W. W. Lance, William Dunlap.

Fourth year—Isaac Newton, Mortimer Gascoigne, D. R. Cook.

For local deacon's orders—A. B. Leonard, Charles Gowdy, Wm. Smith.

For local elders' orders—N. B. C. Love, P. Lemasters, E. G. Brumbaugh.

In the evening at 7:30 the annual meeting of the Superannuated Preachers' Aid society will be held, which will be followed by a meeting of the conference board of trustees.

A pleasing feature of the conference sessions will be the lectures of Bishop Newman, to be given each morning before the business sessions begin.

Among the official visitors for whom entertainment has been provided are the following prominent Methodists, and addresses will be delivered by each some time during the week: A B Leonard, D D, missionary secretary; A J Kynett, D D, church extension secretary; G W Gray, D D, Freedman's Aid assistant secretary; J W Bashford, D D, President Ohio Wesleyan university; D H Moore, D D, editor Western Christian Advocate; J F Berry, D D, editor Epworth Herald; Sanford Hunt, D D, treasurer of tract society; W P Stowe, D D, Western Book concern; E S Gillett, D D, Mrs Anna Clayson, Mrs W G Williams, Mrs Beebe, Dr J T Gracy and a Japanese student.

Bishop Newman will conclude his labors with the Detroit conference this evening, and will come to Toledo to-morrow. He will be the guest of Mr. Milton Churchill on Magnolia street.

GERMAN SINGERS.

Ft. Wayne, Defiance and Napoleon Societies Visit Toledo.

Yesterday was a gala day for the German singing societies of the city, as they had as their guests about 800 visitors from Ft. Wayne, Defiance and Napoleon. The excursion was under the auspices of the the Ft. Wayne Sængerbund and arrived over the Wabash yesterday morning. The Ft. Wayne party numbered 546, the Germania singing society from Defiance and friends numbered 135, and there were 150 from Napoleon. At the railway station they were met by the Teutonia Mænnerchor of this city, whose guests the visitors were and the Helvetia society.

The combined societies, forming a good-sized procession, marched to Druid hall, where an elaborate dinner was served, enlivened by a number of appropriate addresses.

After dinner the entire party took street cars for Bellevue park, where a grand picnic was held. A band furnished music for the afternoon and some fine singing was indulged in by the different vocal societies. Nearly 5,000 people participated in this picnic and enjoyed themselves to the utmost.

ALL OVER THE STATE.

"W. A. T." Gives the McKinley Tariff Barons Another Hard Nut to Crack—General Mention.

Cincinnati, Sept. 21.—W. A. T. sends the Enquirer from Columbus the following interesting comparisons on the increase of farm and city property under the tariff act:

The lame and impotent attempts of Major McKinley to answer the Coshocton editor's questions on the tariff question, suggest the propriety of his explaining the unequal distribution of wealth under the Robber Tariff system.

He and his managers recently set up the claim that the increase of wealth in Ohio, as shown by the federal census, was the direct result of the high tariff system.

When I pointed out, a week ago, that in the distribution of this wealth the agricultural interest came out at the little end of the horn, they began to kick, and are now trying to dodge their own issue.

They are unwilling to pursue the argument to its logical conclusion, and want to upset the rule that population, wealth and social conditions are inseparably connected.

To show how the robber tariff operates in the distribution of wealth to the practical impoverishment of the farmer, I take the statistics for Franklin county, to be found in the office of the secretary and auditor of state.

Franklin county is taken as an instance because it combines both agriculture and the protected industries in reasonably approximate proportions, the former reported in the townships, the latter in the city.

If wealth was being equally distributed the accretions to capital in the farming district would be proportionate to the accretions in the protected district.

Pauperism is the direct result of the inequitable distribution of wealth, and crime is more largely dependent on it than all other causes combined.

Now let us see how the robber tariff works out in the way of distribution in Franklin county.

Comparison for Thirty Years of High Tariff.

	1860	1870	1880	1890	Increase.	Inc. per cent.
Farms	12,712,663	12,647,283	16,330,950	16,525,370	3,813,087	30
City	6,878,112	9,651,315	23,654,050	32,839,610	25,961,488	360
State Tax	104,108	141,481	155,411	183,214	79,106	76
Paupers	1,482	2,304	5,804	9,889	7,606	600
Criminals	156	2.6	5.8	682	526	337
Population	50,361	62,019	88,797	124,087	73,726	156

This is a tariff picture that is striking, so far as the farmer is concerned, at least.

In this table the total number of persons receiving aid are classed as paupers. The number of cases cared for in the infirmary, however, show a slight increased percentage.

Thirty years ago the farms in Franklin county were valued on the tax duplicate at $12,712,663, in 1890 at $16,525,370, an increase in 30 years of $3,813,087 in the farming district.

Thirty years ago city property in the same county was valued at $6,878,122; in 1890 at $32,839,610—an increase of $25,961,488 in the protected district. The total increase of real estate values in the county was $29,874,195.

An equal distribution of this, on the basis of the wealth in the respective districts in 1860 would have been $12 to the farms to $6 to the city.

This basis would have made, in 1890, farm values $32,695,393, and city values at $16,869,487. But under the robber tariff it was distributed in the proportion of $25 to the protected district to $3 to the farm district.

And paupers and criminals increased in almost exactly the same ratio to the disproportion of distribution, while the increase in the farmer's tax was twice and one-half as great as the increased value of his property.

The statistics for the other 87 counties in the state show that the distribution of wealth is in the same proportion between the farming and protected districts.

The farmer ought to be able to see what McKinleyism and the Robber Tariff are doing for him.

CLEVELAND DEMOCRATS.

Cleveland, Sept. 21.—The democratic county convention passed off quietly, and a ticket recognized by all to be a strong one was placed in the field. No resolutions were adopted. The ticket selected was as follows:

For judge of the common pleas court, Conway W. Noble; for state senators, A. W. Beman, Chas. F. Olney, Louis Seelbach; for state representatives, Joseph M. Poe, Franklin H. Smead, Charles Goulder, John J. Keely, M. J. Reddy, A. E. Brown, R. A. Jones; county commissioner, James Harper; county treasurer, H. M. Brown; county recorder, G. B. Molyneaux; county coroner, George F. Leick; justices of the peace, J. J. Clifford, Michael Bourge.

PEOPLE AND FARMERS.

Celina, Ohio, Sept. 21.—The people's party and farmers' alliance held a monster political picnic in Schunck's Grove, near here, Saturday. Over 500 decorated wagons were in line, and the crowd was estimated at 6,000. Speeches were made by J. P. Mitchell, editor of the Labor Courier; W. E. Farmer, of Texas; Peter O. Miller, candidate for representative, and others.

WARREN DEMOCRATS.

Lebanon, Ohio, Sept. 21.—The Democratic county convention nominated the following county ticket: Representative, Dr. W. H. Stokes; treasurer, H. C. Miller; clerk, G. W. Rockhill; commissioner, J. M. Thompson; infirmary director, N. L. Bunnell.

TOLD TO VOTE FOR PETTY.

Fremont, Ohio, Sept. 21.—Republicans met in this city and elected twenty-eight delegates to the joint senatorial convention to be held at Norwalk next Wednesday. Delegates were instructed to cast the vote for James Taylor Petty.

DETROIT VISITORS

Banqueted by the Toledo Club at Their New Home.

Considerable of a sensation was created in the harbor about 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon as four elegant yachts steamed up the river and announced their arrival with the booming of cannon. The yachts proved to be from Detroit, and were the Idler, Vita, Truant and Lillie, having on board members of the Inland American Yacht club of Detroit, who came to this city as the guests of Mr. W. T. Carrington, and were entertained at the home of the Toledo club Saturday evening.

Besides the visitors there were present a large number of the members of the club and their ladies. An elaborate banquet was first enjoyed by the guests, followed by a dance. The evening was a most delightful one and the Detroit visitors returned home with the best feelings toward the Toledo club.

The Race Will Commence To-morrow.

Many People are "Going it Blind" and Will Find Their Work Has Been in Vain.

Gutrie, O. T., Sept. 1.—Sabbath sanctity was lost in Guthrie yesterday. The date set for the opening of the new lands was two days in the future and in the face of that event, affairs sacred were ignored.

The Santa Fe's four regular passenger trains, two from the north and from the south, all came in in four sections of ten and twelve cars each, each section carrying hundreds of home-seekers.

The later were bustling around buying outfits and bargaining for conveyances to the border of the new lands.

Others were preparing to start and still others were getting away. There was bedlam in the streets and confusion everywhere. The churches all held the usual service, but they were slimly attended. Nearly every one wanted to observe the scenes on the street and learn the latest news concerning the opening.

Those who waited until to-day before taking their positions for Tuesday's race have a decided advantage over those who rushed pell mell for the border when the president's proclamation was first promulgated.

They have gained from official publications which were first made here to-day much important information. The list of those sections of lands reserved for school purposes, and those alloted to the Indians, all of which are exempt from preemption, was published to-day. This will be an important guide to all home-seekers and assures them against failure to find a home which might easily result if they should choose exempted lands.

The publication of another piece of official information was also made to-day. It was contained in the following telegram from Land Commissioner Carter:

"In answer to your telegram I have to say that settlers can enter the lands from the Kickapoo reservation."

The Kickapoo reservation is not included in the lands to be opened to settlement Tuesday and lies in the very heart of those that are to be opened. North of it is the Iowa reservation. South of it is the Pottawatomie and east of it the Sac and Fox. This permission will be of immense advantage to the home-seekers, for it gives them many more miles of available border where they may mass for the race.

When the contents of the telegram became known hundreds of boomers hurried into the Kickapoo reservation and have taken up positions to wait for Tuesday noon. Hundreds of others are on their way to the latter border and will arrive there some time to-morrow. The effect of this permission from the land office has been to lessen the home-seekers around the other borders and to spread them out over a greater area. This will decrease very materially the confusion which was expected to accompany Tuesday's race and will greatly lessen the chances of serious disturbances and conflicts between settlers.

Much satisfaction is expressed over Secretary Noble's order to the registers and recorders of land offices [illegible] in connection with the filing of the declaratory statements of old soldiers [illegible] have been suspended, the home-seekers [illegible] vestment.

Nevertheless the line of old soldiers and their attorneys which formed Friday at the door of the land office has been lengthened out 50 yards [illegible] $1.25 for [illegible] length. There have been [illegible].

The most notable feature of the preparation for the race [illegible] is the quiet which [illegible] disturbance [illegible] at Langston, where the cowboys object to the [illegible] the Cimmaron valley, an extremely [illegible].

Serious conflict threatened there [illegible] from Guthrie has so far prevented an outbreak, and it is believed all danger of disturbance there has now passed away. The officers will remain there until the Wednesday morning after the rush to see that the peace is preserved and that all legal claimants are protected from violence.

The sending of this force from Guthrie has depleted the supply of officers in this city and there are not enough officers here to enforce the laws. Saloons and gambling houses are running wide open in direct violation of the law, but the authorities prefer to submit to the violation rather than run the dangers that would attend an attempt at their enforcement with an insufficient force.

Surveyors have been at work ever since Friday on the town sites of the new county seats. It is Gov. Steele's desire that these surveys should be completed before Tuesday. Nine of the lots in the sites can not be claimed until the survey is completed and a delay after Tuesday would cause the congregation of eager crowds around the sites and would doubtless lead to a serious disturbance.

Auburndales, the Champions.

Over 3,000 people witnessed an exciting game of ball between the Auburndales and Starrs, for the championship of the city. Kelb pitched ball out of sight, for the Auburndales and was well supported by Iett.

Fremont's famous pitcher Blue simply was not in it for the Starrs.

The game was one of the prettiest seen out here this season, until the Auburndales got the lead then the Starrs began their old time game of kicking and threw up the game in the sixth inning over a decision of their own umpire.

CHEATING IN HORSE BLANKETS

Nearly every pattern of 5/A Horse Blanket is imitated in color and style. In most cases the imitation looks just as good as the genuine, but it hasn't the warp threads, and so lacks strength, and while it sells for only a little less than the genuine it isn't worth one-half as much. The fact that 5/A Horse Blankets are copied is strong evidence that they are THE STANDARD, and every buyer should see that the 5/A trade mark is sewed on the inside of the Blanket.

THE RETURN OF THE SUMMER GIRL.

"Brown as a berry"—if berries were brown,
In Uncle Sam's country—she's coming to town
In bevies and clusters, by twos and by threes,
From the mountains and meadows and rivers and seas;
In troops that lack only fair pinions to fly
To the homes of the angels, as bright as their sky.
And as gay as a saddlerock's favorite pearl,
This pride of the nation—our own summer girl!

Her trophies are alpenstocks, autumn leaves, fans,
And rings, too, that savor of forthcoming banns,
And hearts all a-dangle in strings at her belt,
And heart-throbs as thrilling as ever were felt;
And freckles, mayhap, from the amorous sun,
And "love-games" at tennis which Cupid half won,
And catches as sweet as the songs of a merle—
Oh, she's brought 'em all back, has this gay summer girl.

The woods echo still to the bird-notes she learned
Down bridal-paths oft by her charger's hoofs spurned,
And the sunsets she wondered at burn in their splendor
As fair as when, pondering what fortune might send her,
She leaned her soft hand on her cheek to admire
The natural arts which Aurora's cheeks fire.
But a glory has passed from the waves very curl
Since the seashores surrendered our own summer girl.

The Great Western railroad, one of the wealthiest in England, has decided to abandon the "broad gauge" on rails. This railroad was the only one in England that still clung to the system.

A southern genius is credited with the discovery that a very fine article of sugar can be made or distilled from the long despised cotton seed. The product is claimed to be 15 times the strength of an equal quanty of cane sugar and 20 times the strength of sugar made from beets.

In felling a big tree at Ivoryton village, in the Connecticut valley, the other day, the woodsman drove his ax into a big, round stone exactly in the heart of it. With difficulty he exhumed the rock, which weighed thirty or forty pounds. How the stone got into the tree trunk is a mystery.

Miss May White, the Munith sleeping school teacher, has now slumbered 85 days. Her home is at Meadville, Ingarham county, but she is at Dr. Brown's house in Stockbridge, for treatment. He thinks she does not sleep as soundly as formerly, he having less difficulty in arousing her to take medicine.

The British government has decided to erect powerful fortifications on Thursday island, and make it the Gibraltar of Australia. It is situated on the most northerly point of the coast, at the entrance to the narrow strait between the Great Barrier reef and the mainland, and has been called the key to the Pacific ocean.

A musical novelty, called the "electro-magnetic palsiphone," has been brought out in France by Messrs. Cierre and Martin. The sound is produced by a sonorous body, which is vibrated very rapidly by the interpreter of Ruhmkorf coil. The sound is continuous, resembling that of an organ pipe, and is said to be very pleasant.

A Chicago man, just back from a trip through Alaska, was asked what he thought of the Muir glacier. "It's grand; it's immense," he replied. "It's worth all we paid for Alaska itself. I tell you," he went on, enthusiastically, "that glacier, if it was worked right, would pay 12½ per cent. interest on $7,000,000 to any ice company in the world."

It appears that the government's rain-making process is a patent affair, the owner being an aged confederate officer, Gen. Daniel Ruggles. Gen. Ruggle's application is dated at Austin, Tex., on February 22, 1879, and his papers were filed in the patent office on June 7, 1890. The patent is entered, "Method of precipitating rainfalls."

In 1885 the mica product of the United States amounted to 147,410 pounds, worth $368,525, while that of 1889 was but 49,500 pounds, worth only $50,000. Since there is no decrease in demand for this article, this decline in the home production can be attributed to no other cause than the large quantities imported from Canada and other foreign countries.

A great wagon-road scheme is afloat for western Washington. It is to have a public highway from the Straits of Fuca to the Columbia river. This movement means a coast road of nearly three hundred miles in length, extending across the state. The result would be the immediate settlement of a big unoccupied territory, which would add immensely to the wealth and population of that portion of the state.

A dispatch from St. John, N. B., says: "Eugene Underhill and Murray Bocock, of New York, have performed a feat never before accomplished. They reached here yesterday, having traveled in a canoe from Moosehead lake to the mouth of St. John river, a distance of 504 miles. They had three guides and three canoes, and made the journey in 24 days. Their actual traveling time, however, was 14 days, the rest of the time having been passed in camp, fishing and shooting."

A plantation of india rubber was started by the government of Assam, in 1873, in a forest at the foot of the Himalayas. Seedlings were planted in the forks of trees, and by 1885 they had reached the ground. The trees were subsequently placed in beds 40 feet wide, protected by the surrounding forest. In 1890 the plantation extended over 1,106 acres, and contains 16,054 healthy plants, besides 84,000 seedlings. The experiment will not begin to be profitable for several years.

It is well known that about 25,000 people are killed every year in India by wild beasts and reptiles, the larger number falling victims to poisonous snakes. It was recently discovered that the injection of permanganate of potash was a specific cure for cobra poisoning. The government discussed the project of furnishing the natives with hypodermic syringes and a quantity of permanganate of potash, but the scheme had to be rejected because it was found that it would entail an expense of £120,000,000.

In a collection of curiosities at Woolwich arsenal, where the great English guns are made, is probably the largest steel shaving in the world. It was the result of an accident. A workman who had charge of a lathe on which a 64-pounder was being turned left his post for some time, and on his return he found that a shaving over seventy feet in length had been turned from the gun's jacket in his absence. It was subsequently tied into a huge Turk's head knot, painted red, white and blue, and placed in the curiosity collection.

A wealthy Russian gentleman, living in his own house on the banks of the Siene, has for the past 10 years kept in a box in a private room the embalmed body of his young wife. She was murdered a few days after marriage, and her sorrowing husband obtained the czar's permission to take the body away with him. The law of France forbids absolutely the keeping of a dead body in any place but a cemetery, but the Russian gentleman hopes to obtain special permission from high quarters to remain the custodian of his beloved relic. If not, he threatens to leave the country rather than part with it.

The king of Siam is said to perambulate the streets of his capital, disguised in plain clothes, for the purpose of learning the true condition of the people and initiating reforms, several of which have already been started. The chief evils in Siam are serfdom, slavery, and farming of taxes, and the corruption of justice. Serfdom is universal, with the result that a man is quite uncertain when he may call his time and his labor his own. For so many months in the year he is bound to serve his chief, and at any time he may be called on for "special king's service." For instance, when a prince is on his travels, every district through which he passes is called upon to supply him with food and transport. If news comes that a prince or high official is traveling, it is not uncommon for owners of boats to request a European subject to take temporary charge of them, while they themselves disappear into the jungle. Elephants can always be taken for the king's service.

ENGLISH COMMENT

On the Whaleback Steamer Charles W. Wetmore.

The Vessel Opened the Eyes of the British Mariners—Some Criticism That Is Unfounded.

The following extracts from two English marine journals were sent to Col. Isaac D. Smead by Mr. James Bartlett, his engineer, who has been in London for some time. They show what a sensation the whaleback steamer made in England, and the feeling toward them. The adverse criticism which is referred to in one of the articles has been disproven by later performances of the steamer. The first one is as follows:

The "Whaleback" is an American notion. One of its sort and probably the most remarkable vessel that has ever crossed the Atlantic arrived on the closing week of July in the Waterloo dock, Liverpool, with a cargo of over 2,000 tons of grain. This is the "whaleback" steamer Charles W. Wetmore, and her peculiar construction was the object of much interest to the thousands of people who flocked down to see her. She is what is described in America as a steam barge, and at the present time about four of them, though of smaller capacity are running on the American lakes. In appearance the steamer is like a huge cigar, with both ends coming to a point. She is built of steel, and on the forward part is erected a round turret on iron pillars, where the lookout is stationed, and where eight of the crew can be accommodated. A turret is erected aft, also on pillars, and here are a number of state rooms for the captain and officers, chart house, pantry, galley, saloon, mess room, etc. The engines are stationed directly aft, and the engineers and firemen are quartered below. The vessel has nine hatches, or really nine large plates which are screwed off and on as required. The hull is of steel, and on both sides there is light wire roping as a protection to the men going from one side to the other. There is practically no deck, simply the iron plates lapping over each other. These plates are slightly oval, so that a sea coming on board goes over the side. The only bulkheads are those forward and aft, the hold being one huge space. The vessel is 265 feet long, 38 broad, an 24 feet depth of hold, and loaded has a freeboard of 8 feet. She brought over 87,000 bushels of grain in bulk, and when one of the plates or hatches was taken off the cargo was shown to be in excellent condition. The vessel has four jury masts, but these were stowed underneath the large turret. The masts have plates at the bottom, and are screwed to the plates which form the deck. The Charles W. Wetmore was built on the shores of Lake Superior. She came through the five rapids of Galloupe, Long Sault, Cotean, the Cascades, an Split Rock, being the only vessel that ever came through the rapids in one piece. On the lakes the vessel can carry 100,000 bushels of grain. She has compound engines, and averaged about 12 to 13 miles on a consumption of 13 tons a day. Captain Saunders commands the boat, and Mr. E. Huntington Dwight, an American journalist, came over in her especially to write an account for several United States newspapers. The trip from Sydney, Cape Breton, took about ten and a half days. The vessel had stiff weather on several days, but behaved exsellently. It is claimed that she can be discharged by elevators of her 87,000 bushels in 12 hours. The Charles W. Wetmore is manned by 20 hands all told, and her construction would cost little if any more than half that of a vessel of a similar capacity built on this side of the Atlantic. The inventor of the type is a man of Scottish race, Capt. Alexander McDougal, who is manager of the works of the builders, The American Steel Barge company.

Another paper has the following to say of Captain McDougall's boats:

The new type of cargo steamer, with the markedly American christening of "whaleback," has been successful so far. The specimen which arrived in Liverpool a few weeks ago has attracted quite a rush of attention on the part of the shipbuilding and shipowning professions. Crowds of folks have been daily dodging her from berth to berth, and no novelty of the ship-craft kind has proved such a draw since the early days of the Great Eastern. Novel in type, her recent carrying performance is also strikingly novel. She came from the inner American Lake region (Superior) all but fully laden, managed with her light draught to drop down through the various canals and rapids into the St. Lawrence, and thence steamed across the Atlantic to her destination. Her record, during this feat, so far as is known, tells nothing of any extraordinary difficulty experienced, and certainly there has been no disaster, or even any weather incident of approximated danger. But the time of year, as unbelieving experts are careful to point out and reiterate, was the pick of the year for fineness. The new type by many authorities here is simply held up to derision. The Engineer, certainly a most respectable authority on ship architecture and marine engineering, devotes a leader to the subject, the tone of which is derisive without being quite offensively so. It is doubted whether the "Whaleback" will ever see her native shores again. There is no necessity for being in such a hurry at condemnation. We must know more of her, and prove her by more of her doings. It is yet to be made known how she will behave in an Atlantic storm. With but trifling freeboard and no deck in the ordinary sense, the new carrier of Captain McDougall is best compared to a half-tide rock with a beacon lighthouse thereon. The signal difference is that she floats, rising and falling with the waves, and so (if built strongly enough) giving her an advantage over the stationary prototype. If of very rough build, there is no doubt the hull would suffer an immensity of tossing and tumbling without succumbing; but can the super-imposed turrets at either end, through which access is had to the engine-room and the living quarters, be built of strength enough, and fixed in securely enough, to withstand every Atlantic roller? It is very doubtful. These turrets carried away, or even breached, —and total loss would be very close at hand.

THEATRICAL.

The Nest was produced to a very small audience at the Wheeler Saturday night by Charlotte Thompson. It was not counted a striking success, and although the company was competent, the climaxes are not taken advantage of and the play drags.

The company produced East Lynne in the afternoon.

Pearl of Pekin.

To-night the Pearl of Pekin will be put on for a week's run at the People's, by a strong company, headed by Edwin Chapman and Irene Verona. The chorus is said to be well trained, and there is little doubt but the piece will have a successful week. The costumes and music are very fine, and the opera is handsomely staged. A double orchestra will be used all the week.

Devil's Editor.

The Devil's Editor, a new farce comedy, and one that in a month's time has gained the high road which leads to success, will be presented at the Wheeler to-morrow night. The cast is a very strong one, being composed of Sheridan and Flynn, Alice Harrison, Hattie Anderson, Adele Reno and other comedy stars.

Seats at Holmes'.

The Minstrels.

Wednesday evening Shepard's celebrated minstrels will give one of their entainments at the Wheeler. Bert Shepard, the proprietor, is one of the most popular black face artists in the profession, and he has surrounded himself with a strong company this season. The show is strictly negro minstrel, and the costumes are said to be fine.

English Opera.

Friday and Saturday nights lovers of English opera will be treated to productions at the Wheeler. Lizzie Annandale and a strong and competent company will sing Martha, Maritand and the Bohemian Girl at the three performances respectively (counting matinee). The event will be the most important of the present season so far.

WALKS AND TALKS.

"Talk about earnest temperance workers, there was a woman at my house that did some practical work and made an effectual break at pulverizing the rum power," remarked O. R. Bonewity, a hustling young traveling man of Van Wert, while in conversation with a BEE at the Jefferson the other day.

"You see it was like this. This woman's husband is an habitual drunkard, and spends every cent he makes at the saloons, while his family is almost destitute. She went around and notified them all not to sell him any liquor. It was not long after until the fellow went home reeling drunk, and not a cent left out of his week's pay. Well, she questioned him and found out where he had spent the money, and without further delay hustled down to the saloon and demanded the money her husband had spent there. They just laughed at her, but she told them that if they didn't produce at once she would break up housekeeping for them. They laughed again, but their smiles soon faded when the woman suddenly reached in a basket she had on her arm and let fly a brick that smashed a $500 mirror into smithereens. Before the bystanders and proprietor had recovered from their surprise, a down-shoot fixed the silver plated cash register for the scrap heap. She then turned loose on the cut glass, and before they could stop her she had demolished every piece on the elegant sideboard. After throwing all the bricks there were in the basket she coolly walked out."

A gentleman dropped in a prominent attorney's office on Madison street the other day and found the place in charge of the colored janitor. He inquired as to the whereabouts of the attorney, to which the colored individual replied:

"De boss jest went ober to de hall ob justice to free a man on de charge ob miscellaneous destruction of property."

"The legislature should pass a law establishing the whipping posts as a means of punishment for wife beating and cruelty to children," remarked Humane Agent France to a BEE. "This class of crime is becoming entirely too prominent. Scarcely a week goes by but what I have three or four cases of wife beating. It does no good to send a man guilty of this offense to the workhouse. They don't mind it at all, and ten chances to one the woman who has suffered will sue for his pardon before he has served 10 days, and it won't be 10 days until he beats her again. I call to mind a case we had not long since. One of these devils in human form went home drunk and in a savage state of mind. Like all of them he was a coward, and being afraid of a man he took his spite out on his wife. He knocked her down and dragged her by the hair out into the yard and actually jumped on her with his big feet. The woman had a two-weeks'-old babe in her arms all the while. Now, I think to take such a brute as that out and give him about 40 lashes in public would cure him and serve as a lesson to others."

"It's all a fad about razors getting tired," remarked a prominent barber while shaving a BEE the other day. "When a razor pulls it's dull, and that is all there is to it. When the knives are pulling like a team of horses it sounds very nice to tell the customer that the razors are tired to-day and the only thing that will do them any good will be to lay them aside for a few days. That's all right, but after that customer goes out I bet you will find that barber in the back room honing his razors like a good fellow."

"Whar are you going to do with those old stamps?" inquired a BEE of George B. Orwig, as he pulled the stamp off an envelope and dropped it in a drawer in his deck.

"I promised a little girl that I would save all the stamps that came with my mail. I guess some eastern firm offered a cash prize for a million old stamps, and this little girl is after the prize. It is an advertising scheme, I think, and of course the prospect of getting a prize entuses the children and many of them begin a collection, not fully realizing the dimensions of the task. Aside from these children, the stamp collecting fiend is constantly on the warpath for stamps. I know of a man a bookkeeper in this city who is collecting stamps to paper his library at home. He has a perfect system of collecting old letters, from which the stamps are removed and carefully stored away."

WILLIAM L. SCOTT.

The Noted Pennsylvanian is Dead.

He Survived a Number of Serious Complications of Diseases, But His Heart Failed Him.

Newport, R. I., Sept. 21.—Ex-Congressman W. L. Scott, of Pennsylvania, died suddenly before midnight Saturday night. He was brought here about two weeks ago from his home in Erie, suffering from acute gastri-intestinal catarrh. A slight throat trouble occurred Thursday.

Friday and Saturday afternoon he had an attack of heart failure. Another attack occurred at 11 o'clock from which he could not be revived and death came soon.

Dr. Wm. Pepper, of Philadelphia, stated to-day that Mr. Scott's death was very sudden and unexpected and was due to repeated heart failures.

WILLIAM. L. SCOTT.

Erie, Pa., Sept. 21.—The news of Wm. L. Scott's death created a profound sensation in this city, as a hope had been created that he would ultimately recover. Information of his death for some reason did not reach his household until almost noon Sunday.

Dr. Brandies, who has been his physician for years, says Scott's trouble was hereditary, as his father died of consumption of the bowels. The illness which terminated in his death became manifest about 20 years ago.

The great sorrow which has come upon his family and close business friends is shared by the entire city. The mausoleum in which the remains are to be placed was only recently completed. Mr. Scott's estate is estimated at $2,000,000.

A GRATEFUL MOTHER.

How perfectly natural the following reads; it was communicated by Mrs. J. D. Howard, No. 222 Bouch avenue, Buffalo, N. Y., and addressed to Dr. D. B. Hand.

"I happened to be in a drug store and overheard your agent talking about your Children's Remedies. Having a sick child at the time, I purchased a bottle of the Pleasant Physic and Diarrhoea Mixture, used them according to directions, giving a dose of Pleasant Physic every other day and the Diarrhoea Mixture every two hours. My doctor had been treating the child two weeks without relief, and your medicine cured it in four days. I write you this to encourage you in your good work." This is the sentiment and experience of thousands of mothers over all this broad land of ours.

Special Masters' Sale

United States of America, Northern District of Ohio.

The Central Trust Company of New York Complainant, v The Cincinnati, Jackson & Mackinaw Railroad Company and others, Defendants. Consolidated Causes. In the Circuit Courts of the United States for the Northern District of Ohio, Western division, and for the Southern District of Ohio, Western Division, and for the Eastern District of Michigan, and for the Western District of Michigan, Southern Division. In equity.

Notice is hereby given that in pursuance of a decree of the Circuit Court of the United States for the Northern District of Ohio, Western Division, entered in the above entitled cause on June 5, 1891, and of a decree of the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of Ohio, Western Division, entered in the above entitled cause on July 1, 1891, and of a decree of the Circuit Court of the United States for the Eastern District of Michigan, entered in the above entitled cause on June 29, 1891, and of a decree of the Circuit Court of the United States for the Western District of Michigan, Southern Division, entered in the above entitled cause on June 30, 1891, we, Benjamin F. Wade and Hiram F. Carleton, the Special Masters designated by said decrees, will sell without appraisement, at public auction, to the highest bidder or bidders, in the United States Court room, in the City of Toledo, County of Lucas, and state of Ohio, at three o'clock, P. M. on the 6th day of October, 1891, the mortgaged premises and property mentioned in said decree, and thereby directed to be sold. The same will be sold in the manner and upon the terms hereinafter stated, viz.:

1. Said Special Masters will offer for sale separately that portion of the property of the Cincinnati, Jackson & Mackinaw Railroad company known as the Central Division, being the property described in the first mortgage of the Cincinnati, Van Wert & Michigan Railroad company, dated April 14, 1881, together with the proportion of equipment, material and supplies appertaining to such Division which, upon the reference ordered in said decrees, shall be decreed by the court to properly belong to the same, and to be covered by said mortgage. Said property will be offered for sale as an entirety, without appraisement or redemption. No bid will be accepted therefor from any bidder for a sum less than $150,000, nor from any bidder who shall not, if requested by the Special Masters, place in their hands, or deposit with them, as a pledge that he will make good his bid, if accepted by the court, the sum of $15,000 in cash, or first morgage bonds of said Cincinnati, Van Wert & Michigan Railroad company to the amount of $100,000 of principal. 2. Said Special Masters will offer for sale separately the property covered by and embraced in the consolidated mortgage of the Cincinnati, Jackson & Mackinaw Railroad company, dated December 1, 1886, excluding the said Central Division above described, together with the proportion of equipment, material and supplies appertaining to the same which, upon the reference ordered in said decrees, shall be decreed by the Court to properly belong to the same, and to be covered by said Consolidated Mortgage. Said property (excluding the Central Division) will be sold as an entirety, without appraisement or redemption. No bid will be accepted therefor from any bidder for a sum less than $450,000, nor from any bidder who shall not, if requested by the Special Masters, place in their hands, or deposit with them, as a pledge that he will make good his bid, if accepted by the Court, the sum of $25,000 in cash, or Consolidated Mortgage Bonds to the amount of $250,000 of principal.

The said Special Masters will use their discretions in respect to which separate parcel shall be first offered for sale.

After having offered said properties for sale separately, as foresaid, said Special Masters will then offer the entire property covered by said Consolidated Mortgage, including said Central Division, for sale as one parcel, without appraisement or redemption, and if the highest bid received by them for the same shall exceed the aggregate amount of the several highest bids for the two parcels when offered separately, then the whole will be struck off and sold as an entirety to the person making such bid for the whole. No bid for said property as an entirety will be accepted from any bidder for a sum less than $600,000, nor from any bidder who shall not, if requested by said Special Masters, place in their hands or deposit with them, as a pledge that he will make good his bid, if accepted by the Court, the sum of $40,000 in cash, or Van Wert First Mortgage Bonds, or Consolidated Mortgage Bonds, or both, of the total par value of $350,000 of principal. The purchaser or purchasers at such sale may, if he or they so elect, be subrogated to the rights of Walston H Brown, Receiver, under a certain agreement between said Receiver and the Haskell & Barker Car Company, dated January 18, 1890, for purchase of equipment, upon assuming his liabilities under the same.

Of the price for which said properties shall be sold, there shall be paid in cash, at the time of the sale, a sum equal to the amount of cash deposit hereinbefore required, and also, at the same time, and from time to time thereafter, such further portions of said purchase price as the Court may direct; and the Court reserves the right to reject any bid, and to take and to sell said premises and property, upon failure of any purchaser for twenty days to comply with any order of the Court requiring payment. The balance of the purchase price not required to be paid in cash may either be paid in cash, or the purchaser may satisfy and make good said balance of his bid, in whole or in part, by paying over the outstanding First Mortgage Bonds and overdue coupons, or either, the outstanding Income Bonds, and the outstanding Consolidated Mortgage Bonds, and overdue coupons, or either, at such price or value as shall be equivalent to the amount that the holders thereof would be entitled to receive thereon, in case the entire purchase price were paid in cash. The foregoing provisions shall be applicable, whether the said properties be sold in separate parcels, or as a unit. If any bid shall be accepted by the court, and the person making the same shall fail to comply with all the conditions of sale and all orders of the court with respect thereto, the sum deposited by the bidder shall be forfeited, and shall be applied as the court may direct.

Reference is hereby made to said decrees for a more specific description of the mortgaged property therein ordered to be sold, and for further particulars of the terms and conditions of sale.

MR, BETHARDS' FAREWELL.

Brief Review of His Five Years' Pastorate

At St. John's M. E. Church—Good Work Accomplished in All Lines—Free From Debt and on a Substantial Basis.

Yesterday was the closing Sunday of the pastorate of Rev. J. H. Bethards, who for the past five years has been the zealous head of the Methodist congregation which worships at St. John's church on Magnolia street. It was a day which will long be remembered. Every seat in the church was occupied and an air of regret pervaded the room. The cadets had handsomely decorated the chancel with flowers, and the choir of eight voices lent aid in song to make the exercises impressive.

After a brief introductory, Mr. Bethards spoke substantially as follows:

Five years ago I walked down the aisle of this church, as your pastor, happy in the thought that you were nearly three hundred strong, united, vigorous, active and ready at any moment, and at will, to sing the pean of your deliverance from debt. But alas, it was not all true. The best part of the inspiring thought, however, was true. You were united, vigorous, active and ready for any effort to advance the cause of Christ, and it was this that made possible what has come to pass.

The report of the year preceding my pastorate shows 262 full members, an average attendance in the Sunday school of 203, and a collection for missions of $180. But at the close of that year Albany street was separated from St. John's and started as an independent church. This separation greatly depleted our ranks. It only left us a booked membership of 237, and a dozen or more of these were not in the field, while our Sunday school suffered in equal ratio. This loss had to be regained, but at the close of my first year I was only able to report 252 full members, an average attendance in the Sunday school of 193, and only $10 advance in missions.

When I came I also confronted a debt of $3,000 on the church, with nearly $1,000 unprovided for. This gradually dawned upon me, but at the end of six months I fully realized your financial condition. We were not overwhelmed, but like Gideon and his band as they stood at the fount of trembling, we were a little disheartened. We did not at the command of God listen to the recital of a Midianitish dream, but trusted in God and went to work with a will. It was in this hour that your united, earnest, vigorous and ready spirit, by its fervor, conquered all difficulties as a meridian sun conquers the darkness and melts even "the eternal snows." It did not create nor coin silver and gold, but earned it, and your debt vanished like the morning dew. It was better than gold, better than the ease of abundance and luxury. It called into requisition your vital energies, swelled your ranks and won souls to Christ. In the past five years we have raised for all purposes nearly $20,000; we are free from debt, and are now giving to benevolences nearly $200 more annually than we were five years ago.

We have advanced in material things, but while silver and gold will build palaces and pay debts, God only can save, and He has been with us. In the past five years I have enrolled 212 on probation, some of whom have moved away, some have died, some have made shipwreck and some still remain on probation, and 119 have joined us by letter. To God be all the praise.

I have preached more than six hundred times, tried to do the work of an evangelist and to make full proof of my ministry, and now at the close of the full five years I say, in the words of Samuel: "Behold, here I am; witness against me before the Lord, and before His annointed. Whose ox have I taken? or whose ass have I taken? or whom have I defrauded? whom have I oppressed? or of whose hand have I received any bribe to blind mine eyes therewith, and I will restore it you?"

No one perhaps ever preached more earnestly or sharply than I have against all forms of sin, but God is witness that I have never preached to wound, but always to heal and to save. In this I have only imitated both John and Jesus.

I too, have been in your homes in times of both joy and sorrow. I have mingled in your festivities and wept with you as you stood over your dead. Among the first to go was Miss Kiefer, and the last was Samuel Taylor. I have tried to do you good, but you have been more to me than I have been to you. Again and again you have visited our home, bringing tokens of love and esteem. You have graced our home with your presence and gladdened it with your smiles. And only last evening the official board of this church visited my home and gave me this beautiful gold watch. It is beautifully engraved and greatly appreciated for what it reveals as a gift.

But you have done more. When death threw its dark shadow across our home and laid its icy fingers on our little Clarence, you were here. You anticipated our every want and assuaged our grief. All that was possible you did for us, and more than the possible you would have done had it been in your power. We devoutly thank you all, and in future years fond memory will recall all your kindnesses and O how they will sweeten the weary years of life.

And now what shall I say as a parting word? Paul said to the church at Ephesus: "Finally, my brethren, be strong in the Lord and in the power of his might," and so I will say to you.

All "farewells" are of little moment to the true Christian, however profound his love or strong his affection. They may be said in the gay and happy throng, by a pastor and his people as we speak them to-day, or in the chamber of death, but even then it is only saying good night. "Good night, papa, I'll meet you in the morning," sounded down the stairs every evening, and day after day a little one with a face as sweet as that of an angel, on first waking, would say "good morning," while two little arms held the loved mother in fond embrace. But a change came. After months of watching that weary child said "Good night, papa, I'll meet you in the morning," but ere the first rays of the morning sun kissed the darkness unto day, the happy spirit was gone and the little angel form was cold in death. The winding sheet and the casket only added to the intensity of the grief. O it was dark, but as the fiat of Jesus pierced the tomb of the dead Lazarus and quickened even death into life, so the voice of Jesus pierced this gloom. "Suffer the little children to come unto me and forbid them not for of such is the kingdom of heaven." It's their home, and in that kingdom there are no tears, and above all there is no death. It's a land of endless day and everlasting life. Blessed be God, even the heaving bosom in death is only a saying good night and a farewell to every earthly woe, and so it is written "To die is gain."

But, unlike these farewells, all final things are of great interest and of vast moment. But for the final touch of the artist's brush the picture would remain unfinished forever. And but for that final stroke in the building of character it will remain incomplete and that forever. Our aim should ever be to stand "complete in Him."

Paul looked on the church at Ephesus and beheld it as incomplete and said: "Finally brethren be strong in the Lord and in the power of His might." Without this final admonition that church would have been incomplete forever. Without it they could not know their duty and execute God's will, and without these even a redeemed world would never be brought to Christ.

He tells them that they were "blessed with all spiritual blessings" and made the "sons of God," that this was all in the plan of salvation, that this influx of saving grace brings unity and makes the church a holy "habitation of God." But there is a human side to the church. Sin lays siege to the soul, so we must prove all things and hold fast that which is good. He tells them, therefore, "to walk in holy unity," to faithfully exercise all their gifts, to put off all sin, and to follow God as dear children, and to walk in love even as Christ loved us and gave himself for us.

The sweep of these injunctions would seem to include all, but he adds the words of the text, "Be strong in God." This embodies that implicit trust that made Moses, Joshua, Gideon and Paul so strong. They were steadfast, and Paul, after recounting the mercies of God, says, "Be ye therefore steadfast, immovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labors are not in vain in the Lord."

"Be strong in God and the power of his might." Invest yourselves with the whole armor of God, the elements of power and might by which He is winning the world to himself. Gird your loins with truth, put on the breast-plate of righteousness, let your feet be shod with a preparation of the gospel of peace, put on the helmet of salvation, take the shield of faith, clasp the sword of the spirit and then on to victory.

We are to take the world for Christ and to rescue the perishing. Dr. Davidson stood upon the seashore of North Wales. A bottle floated in on the tide. It contained a paper on which was written: "Sinking fast, latitude 35 degrees, send this to my father." All about us men are sinking; man the lifeboat; push out over the yeasting sea to their rescue and save them before they go down and are lost forever.

And now may the blessing of Almighty God, and the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be upon you all ever more. Amen.

During the delivery of the sermon Mr. Bethards was visibly affected, and it was difficult at times for him to proceed. At the close of the services, a season of general handshaking was indulged in, and many well wishes were expressed.

Superintendent Mrs. M. R. Davis had arranged a special program of greeting for the Sunday school session, which included songs, quotations from scripture and farewell words from the pastor. It was interesting throughout.

Last night a general praise service was held in the main audience room, brief remarks being made by Messrs. W. D. Burgess, L. S. Churchill, S. W. Flower, E. A. Williams, A. B. Hood and others.

No. 59.

HEROIC WOMEN.

Woman has never been awarded her share of written history. It is not strange that in the latter part of the nineteenth century she has come to the front with somewhat formidable pretensions, demanding her rights. This is to be accepted as one of the legitimate out growths of increased mentality—of the growth of general intelligence. "Woman's rights" is the way the idea expresses itself; and it has already gained greater width and strength than many choose to confess.

There were thousands of heroic, noble women who came into the wilds of the west with the incoming of the nineteenth century—gave up voluntarily and left behind them loved friends and endearing associations and buried themselves in the depths of the inhospitable forests, to take their chances of what might be in store for them. They came knowing the privation and hardships they were to encounter—knowing that subsistence at all was to be sought from the virgin soil. They came knowing that they were to contend with wild and savage beasts and scarcely less savage man; and to encounter epidemic disease—in fact, a land,

> "Where nothing dwelt but beasts of prey;
> Or men as fierce and wild as they."

The race of pioneer women were, with few exceptions, a rugged, hardy, bold and enduring class—no others would make the venture. They took hold and helped their husbands to break the forests and prepare the soil for first crops. It is needless to catalogue the work they did and the privations they endured; but they met them without murmuring, and it is largely to their toils and heroism that we owe the blessings and comforts we enjoy to-day.

Many of the class were called upon to defend their lonely cabins and helpless children against the murderous night assaults of the merciless savages, and in which, single handed, they often succeeded in saving their cabins from the torch and themselves and children from the tomahawk and scalping knife. Some instances would be cited if space allowed.

Many of these pioneer mothers were giants in strength and heroes in will. Many of them were skilled in the use of rifle, ax and tomahawk. They often brought down the deer, bear and panther with the unerring shot. And besides, they were noble wives and mothers. They brought up their sons and daughters to be men and women in the true sense—to imitate their hero mothers in true manhood and womanhood, and to be examples of true Christian character. Volumes might be written of their good deeds and praiseworthy lives. Think of a mother bearing from eight to twelve children, and then unassisted bringing them up to maturity, all alone. They spun, sometimes wove, and always made up all the clothing of the entire family, did their own washing and mending, and their own house keeping, until their daughters became large enough to render assistance. Every mother nursed her own babies from the start. And besides all this, they found time to help their husbands in the fields in emergency.

These hardy frontier women were seldom in bed over a week at their confinements—often less. Sometimes they had no other nurse than their husbands, except when their neighbor women called. Their physical organisms were healthy and robust from use, so that child-bearing was a trifling affair which they little regarded, and the effect of this physical developement was seen in the daughters after them. It was the custom of most pioneer women to drink a pint of whiskey during about the first two days of their confinement.

I have by no means overstated the case —I have understated it. But even the names of those daring pioneer women are mostly lost to the world, I append a few of the most prominent of the thousand. But they have long since turned to dust, though echoes of their virtues and patriotism are occasionally faintly reflected.

Mary Bledsoe, Catharine Sevier, Rebecca Boone, Mrs. Mason, Anna Innis, Sarah Combs, Charlotta Robertson, Mrs. Dunham, Jane Brown, Sarah Wilson, Mary Moore, Mrs. Denis, Mrs. Scott, Ann Haynes, Ruth Sparks, Rebecca Williams, Sally Worth, Jane Dick, Mary Heckweller, Ruhama Greene, Sarah Sibley, Mary Dunlevy, Ann Bailey, Mrs. Carter, Mrs. Helm, Mrs. Snow, Charlotte Geer, Sarah Bryan, Lucy Chapin, Ann Allen, Elizabeth Allen, Harriet Noble, Mrs. Comstock, Elizabeth Kenton, Frances Traske, Elizabeth Harper.

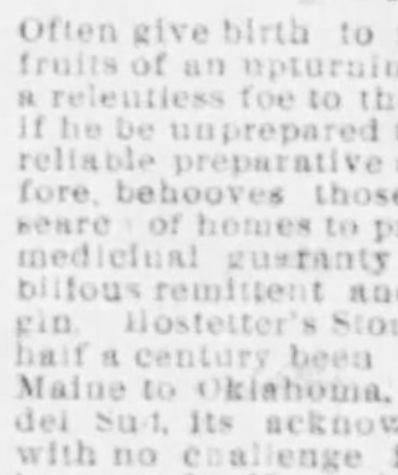
New Clearings in Frontier Settlements

Often give birth to miasma, as one of the first fruits of an upturning of the soil. Malaria is a relentless foe to the newly arrived emigrant, if he be unprepared to meet it by the use of a reliable preparative and preventive. It, therefore, behooves those seeking the far west in search of homes to provide themselves with a medicinal guaranty against chills and fever, bilious remittent and ailments of kindred origin. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has for nearly half a century been esteemed the best. From Maine to Oklahoma, from Victoria to San Juan del Sud, its acknowledged superiority meets with no challenge in localities where it has been used. Medical testimony, the most positive and direct, backs up the general verdict—no less in regard to its virtues in case of liver complaint, dyspepsia, constipation, rheumatism and kidney ailments, than in cases of malarial disease.

Dr. Clark, the Botanic Specialist,

Eleven years at his Toledo Office Parlors

Patronize no longer, advertising quacks, who infest our city for a few months and with their accumulated spoils depart.



Dr. Clark cures syphilis, gonorrhea, loss of manhood and power, spermatorrhea, night emissions, cancers sores, liver, kidney and blood diseases.

Special diseases of both men and women positively cured. Dr. Clark is the only botanic specialist in the state. If you mean business and wish to be cured call and see us and have a friendly talk and see what can be done for you. If not you probably will fall into the hands of an advertising charlaton or a home physician that is incompetent.

Dr. Clark has no spare time to lose, but every case has a thorough examination so you can accept or reject. We are the friends of all sufferers. Dr. C. G. CLARK, Toledo, O., next to Hotel Hamilton.

Dr. MINGOS,

Corner Oak and Summit Streets,

Cures all private diseases, catarrh, scrofula ulcers, eruptions on skin, syphilis, and all disorders arising from its effect cured forever. No hindrance to business. Use no mercury. All medicines prepared by myself. Have never failed in curing a case. No experiments are made but a sure cure. On account of treating so many patients charges are kept low. A sure and positive cure for all cases of gonorrhœa or gleet in a week or no charges. Also a sure and positive cure for all female complaints, leucorrhœa or whites. A private home secured for ladies pending and during confinement. Ladies in need call or write. Consultation free and private.

G. A. MUHME, Home Chiropodist, office 117 Summit st. over Mr. Egley's shoe store second floor. Removes Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails, without leaving the feet sore. Positively cures Sweating and Odorous Feet. Examination free. Treats Chilblains and frozen feet. EMMA McCARTHY, secy.

THE INVISIBLE ARMY.

From the earliest period, the idea has prevailed of a mysterious, unseen enemy to the human race warring perpetually against health and life. In the days when superstition reigned supreme, this enemy was held to be evil spirits with which the atmosphere was supposed at all times to swarm.

Relief was sought, therefore, through charms, incantations and propitiatory offerings. Under the influence of civilization this theory has disappeared, and with the light of modern science this invisible army and enemy has been exposed to view—a mighty host indeed, which no man can number. This army is composed of Micro-organisms, or microbes. They are among the most minute bodies made visible by the microscope, but their increase is so rapid that unless checked by want of nutriment, they would in a few years take possession of the whole earth, to the exclusion of all other life.

A large proportion of this army is harmless, the poisonous part of it being distinguished as Pathogenic Microbes.

Some conception of the ravages of this mighty army of pathogenic microbes may be had from the general statement, that they are "the cause of four-fifths of all the diseases of the human family—that they destroy more lives than war, famine, fire, murder and shipwreck combined—and that they actually abbreviate the average term of human life by three-fourths" This army is divided into many sections, each formed of separate and distinct species, their manner of attack being various. They obtain access to the blood through the skin, through the air we breathe, the water we drink, and through inocculation.

But there is still another method of attack, namely: the dissemination through the circulation of the blood, of deadly poisons. These products of the pathogenic microbes, called ptomaines, tend not only to destroy the life of the person infected, but result finally in the destruction of the microbes which produce them. This accounts for the self-limitation of infectious diseases when not fatal, such as measles, small-pox, etc.

There are diseases, however, such as Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison, and their results and sequences, the limitation of which has hardly yet been fixed. The old treatment of mercury and potash would at best only hold the symptoms of these diseases in check, hoping that the pathogenic microbes might be destroyed by their own virus. This may happen in a term of years, but in the meantime the treatment kills both the microbe and the patient.

S.S.S. has for sixty years been forcing out these pathogenic microbes from the blood, through the pores of the skin, thus curing the disease, and at the same time building up the general health of the patient. When SWIFT'S SPECIFIC enters the blood, the pathogenic microbes take their departure through the pores of the skin, the poison is eliminated, and the patient is well. That the germs of these diseases are expelled from the body through the pores of the skin, there can be no sort of doubt, as it has been demonstrated and settled beyond controversy by distinguished micrologists, and as S. S. S. acts directly through the skin, there can be no doubt of the way in which it has cured thousands, and is destined to cure millions yet unborn.

We will mail our Treatise on the Blood to all applicants, FREE.

LOTS FOR $175.00

Small Down Payment---$5 Per Month!

FAIR GROUNDS ADDITION

At No Time in the History of Toledo

Have there been such rare opportunities for the prudent investor to place his money in land as at present. Toledo property is away down at rock bottom figures. Don't fail to take advantage of these prices as they are sure to go up.

Fortunes Have Been Made

By judiciously investing a few dollars in real estate, and the secret of success is often buying in a growing locality at a low figure, and holding the property.

Why Don't You Buy a Home?

You may try to get around it by saying that you cannot afford it. This is nonsense as every one of us spends more money needlessly every month than the small payment required to secure a lot.

Houses Built on Monthly Payments

With a small down payment. If you are worth $5 a month you are good for a lot in Fair Ground Addition. With the New Depot Electric Street Ry. Water and City Gas this part of the city is bound to go ahead and prices will be from 50 to 100 per cent. higher a year later.

City Auditor's Office.

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 8, 1891.

THE COMMITTEE ON WAYS AND MEANS of the Common Council of the City of Toledo, Ohio, and the undersigned, invite sealed proposals at this office to

at 7 o'clock p. m. for the purchase of street improvement bonds, to the amount of Eight Thousand Two Hundred and Two 22-100 ($8,202 22-100) dollars bearing date August 24th 1891 and payable as follows Six Hundred and Forty two 22-100 dollars on February 24, 1892, and Eight Hundred and Forty dollars at the expiration of every six months thereafter, to and including Aug. 24, 1896. At the office of the City Treasurer, with interest at the rate of five (5) per cent per annum, payable semi-annually at the same place as evidenced by coupons to be attached to said bonds.

Said improvement bonds are issued pursuant to section 2704 to 2707 of the Revised Statutes of the State of Ohio, and also under an ordinance of the common council of the City of Toledo, Ohio, "To provide for the issue of improvement bonds to pay the cost and expense of the improvement of Vermont avenue, from Adams street to Bancroft street"—passed Aug 17, 1891.

The denomination of these bonds will be first payment one bond of $542 22-100, and thereafter one of $500, and one of $340 each payment.

The said bonds will be sold at not less than par and accrued interest to the highest bidder.

Bidders will be required to state the gross amount they will pay for the Bonds besides the accrued interest to date of delivery at Toledo, Ohio. They will also be required to deposit with each bid an amount of money or a certified check on some responsible bank equal to at least five (5) per centum of the par value of the Bonds so bid for as a guarantee of good faith, and that the bid so made (if successful) will be fulfilled in accordance with the terms thereof, and the requirements of the law and ordinances. When the bids have been examined and the award made according to law, all moneys or checks deposited as guarantees shall be returned to the depositor, or held by the City Auditor subject to his call, except that of the successful bidder, which shall be held and considered and accepted as part payment of the Bonds so awarded or sold, but should there be any repudiation of the contract or agreement, or refusal to accept and pay for the Bonds so sold, then and in that case the deposit shall be forfeited to the City of Toledo, and shall become the property of said city in compensation for loss and expenses attending the the sale of said bonds and as liquidated damages for repudiation of bid. And no bid will be received if not accompanied by money or check aforesaid.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

Proposals should be addressed to the "Auditor of the City of Toledo, Ohio." and be indorsed "Proposals for General Street Improvement Bonds."

W. T. WALKER, City Auditor.

FARM AND GARDEN.

Information as to Chestnuts.

In a bulletin recently published by the Pennsylvania experiment station, (located at State College, P. O., Centre county), Prof. William A. Buckhout gives some valuable information relative to the culture of the chestnut.

The chestnut cannot be grown successfully on heavy clays, wet soils or limestone land. It prefers loose, sandy soils, or such as have been derived from the decomposition of slates or shales. In Ohio it is found native on the sand ridges, which border on the lake shore, and on the shaly hillside of some of the hill counties in the southern portion of the state, but never on the limestones which cover the western and southwestern portions of the state, nor can it be cultivated in this region with any prospect of success.

The chestnut grows readily from the seed, but great care must be exercised not to permit the nuts to become dry. To accomplish this they must be planted as soon as gathered, or else must be kept in moist sand until ready to plant. If possible the nuts should be planted where the tree is to stand, as the chestnut has a long tap-root which renders transplanting difficult.

Our native chestnut is practically of but one variety; but the European chestnut is not only much larger and finer than the American, but has produced, under cultivation, a number of varieties, some of which are highly esteemed for the superior quality of their fruit. The trees do not grow so large as the American and come into bearing more quickly; the latter does usually bear fruit until ten or twelve years old.

Within the past few years species from Japan have been introduced into the United States. Unfortunately they do not appear to be entirely hardy, except in the south and some favored localities in the middle states. They are quite dwarf in habit, produce nuts larger even than the European, and begin to fruit when they are but four or five years old.

These two characteristics, of small size and early fruitage, give them special value, and if they can be worked upon stocks of the American species we can secure trees which will bear earlier and produce larger nuts than our native species.

The supply of chestnuts never equals the demand in this country, and many districts in which the trees are abundant derive a very respectable income from the sale of the nuts, it is therefore obvious that this is an industry which can be made far more productive and profitable than it now is, since very little effort has been made towards cultivation.

Silage for Beef Cattle.

A Nebraska subscriber writes to the Gazette: "What is the value of silage for feed? Is it suitable as part of a ration in making corn-fed beef? Is it preferable to hay for wintering calves and young cattle generally?"

Prof. Henry replies: "Silage made from corn when well kept represents a feeding value of about 10 per cent. less than the green corn itself. Dry cured fodder carefully housed will probably show fully as great a loss in the process of curing. Farm animals are very fond of silage and do not seem to tire of it even after months of feeding. I have been greatly surprised in watching this point to see how persistent the animals were in choosing this feed to any other we can give them. Well-made silage is somewhat loosening in its effects. Poorly made often causes scouring if fed in large quantity. Silage usually starts the shedding of the coat in February, so that the animals often come out in the spring with sleek new coats. On the whole good silage has much the same effect as pasture grass.

"I believe that in time silage will be considered an important adjunct in steer feeding in the corn sections, where all the feed has to be prepared by the hand of man. Experience will show, I think, that for starting the fattening period silage is exceedingly important in that it keeps the digestive tract of the animals in just that healthful condition which is so important where the fattening process is continued for a long time and the animal made very ripe and mature. To start animals that are to be highly finished on strong, concentrated feed, with only hay for roughage, is to burn the candle too rapidly in the beginning. Of course the amount of silage fed should be diminished as the animals approach maturity, in order that the flesh may become less watery and reach that solidity so much desired by the butcher.

"Young stock can be wintered satisfactorily upon silage, though I would not recommend it as a total feed for any farm animal. It occupies the place of roots with the Canadian and English stockmen, but goes a little farther in being nearer a complete and satisfactory feed in itself than roots."

To Destroy the Canada Thistle.

There are farmers who will contend that the Canada thistle can not be eradicated; that its roots are so deep that it must necessarily be forever tolerated. The secretary of the New York Agricultural society says nay. He says: Have the land seeded to clover, and by top dressing with plaster, ashes or some means, get a growth of clover. When it is in full bloom, and the thistle shows a blossom, mow and make, thistles and all, into hay. Then apply a little plaster to start the growth of clover. This will come quicker than the thistles. When the clover has a good start, from July 20 to August 5, plow all land and cover all growth. Roll and harrow to cover every thistle. Few will show after this. When they do, cultivate thoroughly with a cultivator having broad, sharp teeth to cut them off under the ground. In two days go over with a sharp hoe and cut off what has escaped. Keep using the hoe and cultivator until freezing weather. By plowing this field just before freezing, the land will get in the finest condition for a spring crop.

LIVE STOCK AT THE WORLD'S FAIR.

Ample provision will be made at the Columbian exposition for the fullest setting forth of the splendid live stock interests of the United States. W. I. Buchanan, chief of the department of agriculture for the fair, says of the buildings for live stock:

One of the most desirable and interesting features of the exposition will be the proposed live stock and agricultural assembly hall, the erection of which is now assured. This building will probably connect machinery hall with the agricultural building, fronting on the main court of the exposition grounds, and will be conveniently near one of the stations of the elevated railroad. It will be a very handsome building and will undoubtedly be the common meeting point for all persons interested in live stock and agricultural pursuits.

On the first floor, near the main entrance of the building, will be located a bureau of information, in charge of attendants, who will furnish visitors with all necessary information in regard to the assembly hall and the main agricultural building, as well as other features of the exposition. The first floor will also contain suitable committee and other rooms for the different live stock associations of every character, where such associations can meet and have their secretaries in constant attendance, thus affording this important industry ample headquarters near the live stock exhibit and the agricultural buildings.

On this floor there will also be large and handsomely equipped waiting rooms, with fireplaces for ladies, lounging rooms for gentlemen, and handsome toilet facilities. Broad stairways will lead from the first floor in the assembly room, which will have a seating capacity of about 1,500. This assembly room will furnish facilities for lectures, which will be delivered by gentlemen eminent in their special fields of work, embracing every interest connected with live stock, agriculture and its allied industries.

When one considers that in this room almost daily there will be lectures delivered, papers read and discussions had, conducted by eminent specialists from all parts of the world, the importance of such a building for educational purposes is apparent. Taken in connection with the exhibits, this feature will make that part of the exposition devoted to the stock, agriculture and horticulture a complete gathering together of all that an advanced civilization is capable of producing. In the assembly room the most approved theories will be advanced and explained.

The entire second floor of the assembly building is given up to committee rooms, and rooms for headquarters for each and all of the different farmers' organizations in existence in this country. It will furnish a definite and pleasant home for all such organizations during the entire time of the exposition, where each may have its secretary or other officials constantly in attendance to furnish information and transact other business, and where the members can hold such consultations as they may desire.

Such a building was never erected at any exposition, and its construction here will show the board of directors' purpose of affording every desirable facility that they can furnish to aid the great live stock and agricultural interests of the country.

Economic Weight of a Hog.

On the economic weight of a hog, the Chicago Inter Ocean says: Experiments made for the purpose of determining the economic weight of a hog show conclusively that he never should be fed beyond eight or nine months of age, and that the largest profit is found, as a rule, in a weight not to exceed 200 pounds. What is known as the food of support plays a very important part in the profit or loss of large weights. Suppose, as many farmers say, that a resolution be made to turn the hog when he reaches 300 pounds. He must take from his food an increasing amount each day to support the weight already gained or else he drops back. The German experiments indicate that 2 per cent of the live weight in too , must be taken each day to support that live weight. If the hog weighs 300 pounds this amounts to six pounds of food daily. The only profit is in the food that is applied to make new weight. A recent pig-feeding experiment at the Maine station illustrates this principle excellently. The pigs were taken at ages ranging from five weeks to eight weeks. During the first 100 days of the experiment not far from two pounds of digestible food produced one pound of growth, while during the last 50 days the ratio was four pounds of digestible food to one of growth. Every pound of pork made during the last 50 days cost double to that made in the first 100 days. The lesson taught by this principle is practically stated that the most money can be made from young hogs turned at a medium weight.

Poultry Manure.

Poulty manure is the most valuable of the farm manures, and is entitled to great care in its collection and use. Beyond the amount of water it contains, it is as valuable as guano, and therefore should never be sold by practical farmers to morocco pressers at 25 cents per bushels. The poultry house should be underlaid with charcoal dust, when it can be procured, so as to receive the hen manure as fast as made. The surface of this charcoal dust should occasionally be raked or removed off to one corner with a portion of the dung. This may be continued until the manure is required for use, when it should be thoroughly mixed with ten times its bulk of soil before being applied to crops. When charcoal dust cannot be procured, well decomposed swamp muck, plaster of Paris, or even aluminous clay, may be frequently dusted over the floor of the poultry house to be mixed with this manure. The object of all this is to receive and retain the ammonia, so as to prevent its liberation from injuring the health of the inmates of the poultry house. All animals, man included, suffer from breathing the effluvia arising from their excretia, and this is particularly true of the feathered tribes. Their natural habits in the wild state cause them to pass through the upper strata of the atmosphere, and with such velocity as to really rid themselves of the noxious gases given off the surface of their bodies, and to be entirely beyond any deleterious influence from the fumes of their excretia. We should, therefore, in the poultry houses make such arrangements as will prevent the poultry from inhaling these deleterious gases.—Prof. Mapes.

The Farm Garden.

A good farm garden should be located on high, well drained ground, if possible. If natural drainage is not available, lay off lands 12 to 16 feet wide, and break, throwing soil to center; break again the same way and even a third time if necessary and plow out the water furrows deeply. This will usually give sufficient drainage. The work may be finished with a hoe. A farmer's garden should be laid out in a parallelogram at least three times as long as wide. Such a garden can be conveniently cultivated with the plow.

In preparing the ground it should be well bedded three and a half feet wide and afterwards rebedded on the water furrow. These beds may then be harrowed or raked down as near level as is desired. These repeated workings should put the soil in fine tilth. The farmer's garden should not be a toy or play garden, but a real vegetable plantation, and should produce at least twice as much of all products as the family can consume. Vegetables are so good and wholesome and cheap that they ought to come to the farmer's table in ample abundance, both for regular meals and between times. This writer has always entertained an especial fondness when hungry for a large dish of cold—well, peas, butter beans, okra, cabbage, tomatoes, corn, or vegetable salads, and he has known others similarly affected. It is not waste to cook too much—poultry and pigs are equally fond of these things. For these reasons the farmer's garden should be a sort of wholesale affair—large enough that the cultivation may be chiefly done with the horse and plow.—Texas Farm and Ranch.

Notice to Contractors.

Islington Street Paving.

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED by the undersigned, up to 12 o'clock at noon of Monday,

THE 5th DAY OF OCTOBER, 1891,

for improving Islington street, from Collingwood avenue to Fulton street, by paving the central twenty-six feet thereof with fire-brick, cedar blocks or Trinidad asphalt, together with the necessary grading, curbing, crosswalks, drainage, etc.

The contractor or contractors who shall do the work herein provided for shall be paid in cash within ninety days after completion of the work and acceptance thereof by the city.

All bids must be written with ink and the price of each item shall be written out in full as well as in figures. Each bid must contain the full name of every person interested in the same. All parties filing bids for the matters specified in this notice must deposit with the city clerk on each bid the sum of two hundred dollars. All deposits to be in cash or certified check on a bank doing a regular banking business in the city of Toledo, and accompanied by an agreement signed by the bidder and two disinterested persons, guaranteeing that if the bid is accepted a contract will be entered into—otherwise the amount deposited to be forfeited to the city; and in case a contract is entered into, said deposit to remain until first estimate of work done (or double the amount of deposit) is reported to the Common Council.

Bidders will be required to indorse their names on the outside of the envelope containing their proposal, and what the bid is for, the same to be filed with the city clerk. Bids not filed in accordance with the above requirements will be rejected.

Blank bids and envelopes can be obtained of the undersigned or of the city civil engineer.

Bidders must specify the time within which they will commence and complete the work after the acceptance of their bid.

Plans and specifications can be seen at the office of the city civil engineer.

The council reserve the right to reject any or all bids.

By order of the council.

C. H. DURIAN,
City Clerk.

The Bee.

The BEE will give the people all of the news and advertise their wants. Having a circulation much greater than any other Toledo daily paper it is much the best advertising medium. It secures quicker and better returns. Consult your interests by advertising in the BEE when you want anything or have anything to sell.

Parties advertising in these columns and having the answers addressed in care of THE BEE, will please ask for check to enable them to get their letters, as none will be delivered except on presentation of check. All answers to advertisements should be inclosed in envelopes.

Advertisements of Wants, For Rent, For Sale, Lost, Found, etc., not exceeding four lines (28 words), will be inserted in these columns for 50 cents a week, two weeks $1; one month $2. For one insertion 20 cents, two times 20 cents, three times 30 cents, and four times 40 cents will be charged. Over four lines at proportionate rates, payable in advance. Parties desiring situations will be given three insertions free.

No credit is allowed for advertisements ordered in for a certain number of times and stopped before expiration.

Dr. C. A. ROWAND,

One of Dr. Bigelow's expert operators, is the second son of the Rev B. L. Rowand, a prominent Methodist divine, well known in Toledo, having lived in the city and vicinity for 17 years; was pastor of the Third Street Methodist church, East Side, five years.

Young Rowand commenced dentistry with Dr Nevius 10 years ago. The boy showed such marked taste for the profession that his father gave him every opportunity to educate him for a practitioner; also his brother W H Rowand. Both boys graduated with high honors at the Indiana Dental College, and at once entered the practice of dentistry. To-day the Rowand brothers have a reputation seldom obtained as expert practitioners. Dr C A Rowand has been a fixture at the Oriental Dental Parlors, 305 Summit st, for over two months, and is destined to stay an unlimited length of time if money will keep him.
